Big 3 Drafting Berlin Policy Reds Are Expected To Block Highways

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Big Three are reported drafting a tough policy to deal with any Communist move to interfere with Allied air, rail and highway traffic to West Berlin.

This U.S.-British-French policy is taking shape in diplomatic consultation amid mounting belief the East German Reds will seek to interrupt transportation to the divided city.

In Berlin, a Soviet source said Wednesday night Russia intends to give the East Germans control over all Western supply lines into the former German capital, surrounded by Communist territory.

If a new Berlin blockade threatens, diplomatic officials said the Allied government could face far-reaching decisions on whether to:

1. Try to ram an armored train or tanked truck convoys through any barriers the East Germans might erect.

2. Revoke the Allied airlift which licked the Red blockade 10 years ago.

Initially, the Allied counter-strategy may involve strictly limited dealings with East German authorities who might replace Soviet personnel at check points.

This has not been decided definitely yet, mainly because the West Germans are reported objecting. The East Germans, it is felt, might balk at such dealings as a step toward Allied recognition.

Allied diplomats acknowledged that any such policy would be a partial reversal of the present attitude of no contact whatever with the Soviet puppet government.

But, they said, any such Allied-East German contacts would be carried out only with well-publicized announcements that the East Germans are being treated as agents of the Soviet Union.

Smirnov Tells Adenauer Soviet's Berlin Plan

BONN, Germany (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov told Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today what the Russians intend to do "to realize the liquidation of the occupation status of Berlin."

Neither Smirnov nor the Bonn government disclosed what was said. But Soviet sources in Berlin said the Russians will give East Germany's Communist regime control of the West's land, air and rail routes to the isolated old capital.

In West Berlin, Mayor Willy Brandt told the city's Parliament the Western Allies have promised "clearly and without reservation" to defend the Communist-threatened city.

There was no inkling when the Russians might make their move. The crisis was set boiling 10 days ago by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in a Moscow declaration saying the Russians intended to end the four-power occupation of Berlin.

Smirnov's visit to Adenauer came as a surprise. Some Western diplomats said they thought

Sudan Leader Reorganizing Foreign Policy

CAIRO (AP) — Sudan's new strong man said today his main interest now is in internal reorganization, and foreign policy decisions will have to wait. He hinted he will seek better relations with the United Arab Republic.

Gen. Ibrahim Abboud made his comment in a brief telephone interview from Khartoum, Sudan's capital, with The Associated Press in Cairo.

This is believed to be the first interview since his bloodless coup d'etat Monday.

Abboud answered the phone while presiding over a meeting of his new 12-man Cabinet.

Asked about the possibility of reaching an agreement with the U.A.R. on the division of Nile waters, long an issue between the two nations, Abboud replied: "My policy is very clear and I have emphasized it in my first declaration after taking over."

Declined to Amplify

Abboud declined to amplify this. In the declaration he referred to, Abboud promised to work for better relations with the U.A.R. and the elimination of dissension.

"We need two or three days to lay down the broad lines of our policy," Abboud said. "Our main interest is in internal reorganization."

Train Hits Plane In Freak Mishap No One Is Injured In California Crash

EL TORO, Calif. (AP)—A jet fighter plane overshot an airfield and crashed on railroad tracks Wednesday. Seconds later, a seven-car passenger train plowed into the plane.

The train sent the jet cartwheeling through the air. The plane came to rest against a lounge car containing 30 passengers. Jet fuel exploded in flames.

The locomotive and four cars were derailed. Three sections of track were torn up. But no one was seriously injured.

The plane's pilot, who suffered only bruises, was the most seriously hurt.

"I'd say the good Lord had his arm around a lot of people," said a spokesman at the El Toro Marine Corps Air Station, where the jet was practicing landings.

Hero of the near-disaster was Pat Schamber, brakeman on the Santa Fe's San Diego, bound to San Diego from Los Angeles with 130 passengers and crew.

He dragged the stunned pilot, Marine 2nd Lt. Phillip M. Schmidt, 23, from the wreckage. When they were about 50 feet away the F4 skyray burst into flames.

Schmidt, practicing a power-off landing, overshot a steel cable across the runway on which the plane was to hook. The jet bounced over an 8-foot fence, sheared off a power pole and slammed onto the railroad tracks.

Christmas Savings To Total $337,126

Although $26,458 less than the record a year ago, Salem banks will mail a grand total of $337,126.25 today to holders of Christmas Savings clubs.

The First National and Farmers National banks will place the checks in the mails today, to be delivered to the people who are expected to utilize their funds for the purchase of gifts for holiday giving.

Actually, 4,290 club holders will share in the local savings distribution.

The Farmers Bank will distribute $185,302.75 to 2,287 Christmas Savings club members and the First National Bank will release $151,823.50 to 2,003 patrons. Last season a record $363,584 was shared by the fortunate owners of the Christmas clubs. This year's total is slightly under the '57 peak, bank figures show.

Other Banks Mail Checks
Banks elsewhere in Columbiana County are mailing holiday savings to those who have saved during the year for gift purchases and other investments.

Two Were Saved by Coast Guard

Survivors of 'Bradley' Tell Story of Sinking

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — The grim story of the sinking of a storm-battered Great Lakes freighter which carried 33 men to a watery grave was told Wednesday night by the two survivors of the disaster.

Frank Mays and Elmer Fleming were thrown from their small raft three times in the night by the violent waters of northern Lake Michigan and three times they managed to find the raft in the dark, climb aboard and hang on for their lives.

Mays and Fleming, the only known survivors of the giant cargo ship, Carl D. Bradley, which went down Tuesday, told their stories from their hospital beds here.

The two were plucked from the swirling waters by a Coast Guard cutter that recovered eight floating bodies.

The job of trying to identify the bodies went on through the night in this town's little one-story city hall which has been turned into a temporary morgue.

Coast Guard teams searched the islands and waters near here where the ship went down and planned another search today on the chance some other crewmen made it to land.

Eighteen bodies were recovered by sundown Wednesday. Seventeen were here. The other was picked up by a freighter bound for Milwaukee. Fifteen men are still missing in the worst Great Lakes shipping disaster in 18 years.

Mays and Fleming told of the terror and confusion on the sinking Bradley, once the largest

Ernest R. Sturgis, 55, County Coroner, Dies

EAST LIVERPOOL — County Coroner Ernest R. Sturgis died today at 9:25 a.m. at City Hospital after a long illness. He was 55.

Mr. Sturgis served 21 years as coroner in two long tenures dating back to 1929. He was elected to his present four-year term in Nov., 1956.

Mr. Sturgis first was appointed to the office in 1929 to succeed the late William Maple, Kensington Funeral Home operator who resigned for lack of time to devote to his duties.

He was re-elected to successive terms, serving through 1935. Arnold W. Devon, former mayor, was named to the coroner's office to succeed Mr. Sturgis, serving until 1945. Mr. Sturgis' current terms started in 1945 and he was

Jury May Get Police Case

Closing Statements Begun This Morning

LISBON — The case of three former East Liverpool policemen charged with burglary is expected to go to the jury this afternoon.

Closing statements were begun this morning in Common Pleas Court after Judge Raymond Buzard rejected a defense motion for a mistrial. Each side was allotted two hours for final statements, and Assistant Prosecutor Warren Bettis began for the state.

The trial of Ira Cunningham, Robert Carroll and Jerome Raimond, charged with a March 2, 1952 burglary of the Burdick Hardware Store in East Liverpool, was highlighted Wednesday by the playing of a tape recorder by the prosecution.

It was said to link one of the defendants, Cunningham, with an alleged attempt to "corrupt" a prospective juror.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw presented the recording after Donald Lockhart, an East Liverpool pharmacist, testified to a conversation with Cunningham. Lockhart testified Cunningham had told him "we had a bought jury" in a previous police burglary trial.

The jury had disagreed in the trial of Cunningham and others for the burglary of the Smith & Phillips Furniture Store.

The tape recorder had been hidden in the drugstore where Lockhart is employed, the jury was told. Lockhart, who had been summoned to court, was not present.

Committee To Be Formed

Leetonia Plans Drive To Entice New Plants

By ELEANOR COPPERSMITH. LEETONIA — A planning committee will be formed in the near future for the purpose of enticing new industries to the Village, Mayor Ralph B. Kennedy announced at the Village Council meeting on Wednesday evening.

Industrial Planning Commissioner Joseph McSweeney of Norfolk, Va., formerly of Leetonia, pointed out the potentialities of the village to induce new industries to locate here.

Mr. McSweeney said the will to work for such a project is the most important factor, and pointed out that there are no major obstacles the village has to overcome. He said Leetonia has many more facilities to offer manufacturing plants than many of the locales where he has developed industrial expansion.

Mayor Kennedy reported a meeting of local business and professional people will be held soon, at which time a planning commission will be selected. A planning commissioner will be secured to assist with this program.

Members of Council were urged to attend a meeting Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. to Leetonia, Page 14

Hollywood Actor Killed in Crash

Tom Pittman Dies
As Car Leaves Road

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Like teenagers' idol James Dean, Tom Pittman was considered one of Hollywood's most promising young actors.

Like Dean, he was moody, a habitué of coffee houses. He never owned a suit—"I never go any place where you have to wear suits."

Like Dean, he had one love—speed. Both owned 175-m.p.h. Porsche Spyder sports cars.

Dean died in his when it crashed on a highway near San Luis Obispo, Calif., three years ago.

Pittman's career was just beginning to roll. Friends say he earned at least $60,000 this year in radio, television and film roles. He appeared in "The Proud Rebel" with Alan Ladd and on TV's "Wagon Train," "Cimarron" and "Zane Grey Theater."

The 25-year-old actor wasn't exactly handsome. But his boyish charm and acting ability—in the Tony Perkins-Dean-Marlon Brando tradition—earned him good parts. Critics liked him.

Then last Halloween Pittman disappeared.

He never showed up at his apartment after leaving a party at the home of Norma Stuart, former wife of actor Keefe Braswell.

Pittman's father, TV-radio actor Frank Allen, filed a missing persons report with the sheriff's office. Allen said his son, whose real name was Jerry Allen, liked to drive fast around mountain grades and might have gone off a road.

Officer Roy Kerton decided to check the grades in the Hollywood Hills Wednesday. At a sharp curve he found the broken railing. In the 150-foot ravine was the nearly hidden wreckage of Pittman's sports car.

Pittman, lying half in and half out of the car, had been crushed between steering post and door. Eight feet of guard rail stuck through the windshield to the rear of the car.

BUSINESS IS GROWING — That's a long waiting line for the barber's chair, and that's a lady barber, all right—but this is no barbershop. It's just the family recreation room of the John Wetzel home in the Cleveland suburb of Maple Heights. Here, every three weeks, Mrs. Wetzel assembles her eight children for their regular shearing. Johnny, 3, is the client in the center. Waiting patiently for their turns are, left to right: Donna, 5; Jeanette, 18 months; Gayle, 7; Marion, 4; Greg, 11; Larry, 9, and Gordon, 8. It all began when the third son was born. "I faced reality," Mrs. Wetzel says, "and a friend sent a gift of barber shears." Now she estimates that her barbering saves the family some $250 a year.

Whine, Roar of Rocket Is Great

Picture of Flight
Painted by Scientist

NEW YORK (AP)—The whine and roar of the rocket is enormous.

An invisible force presses you back into your seat and you feel your weight has suddenly doubled or tripled.

You are riding a rocket plane that will power you and perhaps 35 other passengers more than 5,000 miles to Moscow in less than two hours.

This picture of flight along the fringes of space was reported by Dr. Robert Corong of Space Technology Laboratories to the meeting of the American Rocket Society.

For five full minutes the battle between rocket and gravity will push you back with an acceleration faster than you've ever felt before.

At the end of five minutes, you'll be hurtling along at about 8,000 miles an hour some 30 miles over the world. The rocket plane has already covered 500 to 1,000 miles.

Suddenly the noise is gone, the acceleration slackens. The rocket plane booster breaks away and returns to its base—and now you and your fellow passengers are gliding toward your destination.

The inside of the passenger compartment is less luxurious than the big jet planes that span the globe—but the time you spend flying is small.

Corong said that such a plane could be commercially in operation in 10 years or so. The passenger fare would be half as much as comparable trips by jet—and would be faster too, he said.

French Leader Warns Of Infiltration by Reds

PARIS (AP)—Secretary General Paul-Henri Spaak warned North Atlantic Alliance legislators today not to reject a friendly nation's appeal for help against internal subversion and external pressure.

The Soviet Union will use subversion and pressure in the future in Asia and Africa, Spaak predicted. He said the same tactics might be applied again in Europe if the North Atlantic Alliance relaxes its vigilance.

The parliamentary group's Political Committee approved a resolution declaring that the West should resist Soviet withdrawal from the Berlin occupation authority as a "flagrant unilateral renunciation of international agreements."

Bulgarian Is Member Of 'Antiparty' Group?

LONDON (AP)—Nikolia Bulgania got another shoving around in Moscow's Pravda today as an alleged member of the "antiparty" group that Soviet Premier Khrushchev ditched from high office last year.

Continuing the campaign against Bulgania, a Pravda article broadcast by Moscow radio said the former Soviet premier had attempted to "put the brakes" on Soviet progress.

Argentina Troubles May Be Just Decoys

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The mysterious affair of Five President Alejandro Gomez subsided today with may observers convinced it had been trumped up to divert public attention from serious economic and labor problems.

Congress accepted the resignation of Gomez, whom President Arturo Frondizi accused of trying to oust him and form a coalition government. Gomez denied the charge, saying he had only warned the administration that a military plot was brewing.

A question and answer period followed his talk.

There will be no meeting in December because of the Christmas holidays.

INCREASE NOTED

CLEVELAND (AP) — Foreign ships using Cleveland's port facilities increased 30 per cent this year and customs officials say even more overseas shipping can be expected in 1959. The St. Lawrence Seaway was credited for the increase. Albina Cermak, customs collector, said Wednesday 390 foreign ships visited Cleveland during 1958 compared with 299 in 1957.

COAL SHIPPING DOWN

CLEVELAND (AP) — Coal loaded into ships at Lake Erie ports during 1958 is expected to reach 37 million tons, down almost 10 million tons from last year, the Ore & Coal Exchange made the prediction Wednesday when it announced 35,078,971 net tons of coal had been loaded to Nov. 17. That's 9,257,432 net tons less than in 1957. For the week ended Nov. 17 coal loadings totaled 1,170,848 net tons compared with 1,073,609 net tons in the similar week last year.

Mr. Stiver is active in the Order of Odd Fellows, the Elks and Rotary Clubs. He also is a member of the Salem Golf Club.

Secretary of Air Force Cites Need of World Disarmament

CLEVELAND (AP)—The United States should work for world disarmament and climate of public opinion that will make coexistence possible, former Secretary of the Air Force Thomas K. Finletter said Wednesday night.

He proposed a "full-scale disarmament plan, complete in all its stages down to the final one—but a plan protected at each stage so we will not be in a worse position than at the start of the plan, if there is a breach of the agreement by any other country."

The United States has never suggested such a plan, Finletter told the 900 persons attending the fifth World Order Study Conference of the National Council of Churches.

The atomic stalemate has disappeared and "the likelihood of war is going to increase," he said.

Present U.S. policy, he continued, is based on the principle that world powers are afraid to start a war because it would mean their destruction.

But the growing threat of posed by Russia and Red China has given a new imperative. This is the absolute necessity of not allowing a war to happen." He said and added:

"If we look 20 or 30 years ahead we see a China with a population of about one billion people, full equipped with atomic weapons and long-range missiles able to strike at all parts of the United States from the mainland of China."

China, he said, is "more dogmatic in its creed of world domination and more ruthless in its determination to get it than even the Russians."

Step-by-step world disarmament "would have to include the recognition of Red China at some stage along the line."

"If we refuse to recognize Red China, he concluded, "we will have to abandon the idea of disarmament."

PETITION FILED

CINCINNATI (AP)—Donald R. Rose of (3705 Vannest St.) Middletown filed a petition in bankruptcy in U. S. District court here Wednesday. Vannest, an automobile salesman, listed his debts at $18,904 and his assets at only $600.

These charts and map detail the grim record of polio during the first nine months of 1958. While the total number of cases was down slightly compared to the same period in 1957, paralytic cases were up by 238. Most tragic fact is that six of the states most seriously hit, the majority of cases were among children under five, four-fifths of whom had been given no vaccine. In the country as a whole, says the U.S. Public Health Service, less than half of all children under five have had the basic three injections of vaccine, and almost one-third have had none at all—this despite the general availability of vaccine. Today, over 40 million Americans under 40 still have received no polio shots.

Reilly Stadium, Home of the Quakers

Ranked 13th in the state among scholastic football teams, the Salem High School Quakers can look back on a highly successful season just concluded.

The legion of loyal fans will agree that the 1958 football team played like champions before the many followers who crowded into Reilly Stadium, home of the Quakers. Out-playing and out-witting the opposition, the red and black defeated many a touted opponent.

But this fall was no different than previous seasons from the fans' viewpoint. Salem citizens, young and adult alike, respond every season to fill the bleachers and cheer the Quakers on — win, lose or draw. Attendance at the Salem games is higher than many schools in northeastern Ohio.

Some of this loyalty is steeped in tradition. Many of the faithful remember that Salem High was the first school in Ohio to have an illuminated field for night football. That was back in 1929. The Quaker band was the first in Ohio to utilize "black lights" for half-time shows.

But these "firsts" are not too impressive when fans survey Reilly Stadium as it is today. The original poles set close to the playing field stand not only a hazard to a player run out of bounds but an obstacle to the viewing spectators. Few schools have poles on the field anymore.

Inadequate dressing room facilities for visiting teams and no rest rooms at all for visitors certainly doesn't speak well for a school that pioneered in Ohio scholastic football.

Salem citizens have always been solidly behind any bond issue or levy for school programs. The Board of Education could show its appreciation by taking steps to improve a run-down stadium.

Two Years Might Do It

The unfinished task that Dwight Eisenhower is superbly equipped to follow through in the last two years of his presidency is military rationalization.

This differs from military reorganization in the sense that reorganization may be nothing but a rearrangement, whereas rationalization is a more sensible way of doing something.

It is the difference between rejuggling the battleships and cruisers in the U.S. Navy after World War I and belatedly reaching a decision to replace both of them with aircraft carriers.

Something of this nature may come out of Defense Secretary McElroy's revelation that the United States is shifting emphasis away from intermediate range ballistic missiles to intercontinental range missiles.

This would mean the United States was getting ready to pull back from outpost positions highly vulnerable to enemy attack and local betrayal. These positions would be bases intercontinental range missiles.

But if missiles with a longer range, which could be based in the United States, itself, replaced intermediate-range missiles, vulnerable outposts could be reduced. There could be simultaneous reductions of manpower

Just Start Paying the Piper

So many of his countrymen want so desperately to believe President Eisenhower really means it when he talks about preserving their savings by cutting federal spending that they could start a sound-money movement in politics.

Roswell Magill, who has had a chance to learn a great deal about money management in his career as a lawyer and tax consultant, makes it all simmer down to simplicity in the current issue of Saturday Evening Post.

The only way Americans are going to keep the funny-money crowd from milking all the value out of dollars is to make them start paying the piper for their free-spending antics, he explains.

Every time they jump up on a platform with a proposal to spend another billion, they should be made to stand there until they have proposed a tax that would raise another billion.

Because every important source of tax revenue already is being worked to the limit, it would be immediately obvious that these liberal spenders are giving away what they don't have and can't get.

That is inflation. That is what takes value away from dollars until finally the dollars dwindle away to nothing; they won't buy anything any more. Everybody who put away something for his old age or the things he intended to do some day will be left holding an empty bag.

Even the people who hooked a ride on the funny-money merry-go-round will be in a hurry to get off if they have to pay as they go, because they will realize they are going around in a circle — the more they get the more they need. They aren't going anywhere.

If Congress were made to raise every cent it spends — a strict pay-as-you-go policy — there could be no inflation. Billions of dollars now spent blithely because no one is held responsible for the deficit would be lopped off the federal budget, because no senator or representative would dare to propose the taxes to raise the money.

President Eisenhower is reported to be talking about a federal budget for the year beginning next July 1 that would be leveled off some point below the current year's budget of $79,200,000,000. Mr. Magill, incidentally, thinks if it could be leveled off next year at an even 80 billion that alone would be anti-inflationary.

The spenders, on the other hand, are drooping at the prospect of running it up toward 90 billion.

Many big joint debates are held in butcher shop.

An etiquette book says some things just aren't done in restaurants. Steaks and what else?

At every election time lots of politicians are plum crazy.

Man is not making much headway in getting to the moon, but stock market securities are getting there easily. Some stocks could be equipped with signal-sending devices so they could send such messages as "What am I doing up here?" "Is this trip necessary?" and "Am in outer space, which goes to show what a merger rumor can do."

"SPACESHIP? Who needs it?" exclaimed Prentice Plunger today. "I've got a stock that just took me beyond the moon."

"How will you get back?" we asked.

"That's what scares me," he admitted.

"Could you breathe up there?" we inquired.

"I had no trouble except when I looked at my stock-o-meter and realized how high up I had gone since the previous day's closing price. That left me gasping," he said.

"Did you have oxygen equipment away up in the hid and asked area around the moon?" we asked.

"No. My broker had assured me that the corporation whose stock I bought had declared a 50 per cent oxygen dividend at its last board meeting and would double the amount soon."

WE MET ANOTHER speculator who had made the moon on a stock market tip. He was in bad shape as he had come down from outer space abruptly. "No parachute?" we asked.

"I had a parachute," he groaned, "but it was a quick turnover chute, not the long pull type. My broker told me I should have something I could get in and out of fast."

"J. P. MARQUAND, famous novelist, has divorced his wife after 21 years, papers say. (Couldn't live 'Apley' ever after?)"

Ah, the loveliness of the children's hour! . . . "Follow the team," a line from Tennyson is inscribed on base of some U.S. guided missiles. Why Tennyson? Why not Shelley? Or John Kendrick Bangs?

The Great Betrayal

By RAYMOND MOLEY

The newspapers have discussed the 25th anniversary of the recognition of Soviet Russia, an event which stirred great hopes in this country on Nov. 16, 1933.

They have also commented on the great betrayal that followed.

It is idle to speculate on the wisdom of President Roosevelt's decision to offer recognition which had been withheld by the administrations of Wilson, Harding, Coolidge and Hoover.

The decision was made in good faith. It was a risk which was calculated with some care — much more care than attended many of Mr. Roosevelt's decisions.

A year and a half before, when the Roosevelt campaign was just getting under way, the candidate was urged to come out for recognition.

On one occasion at which I was present, some of the liberal advisers urged the next step. Sara Roosevelt, the next President's mother, an autocratic lady indeed, said with fire that "If Franklin does that, I will break with him." Franklin said nothing, and for eight months after his inauguration made no move. Finally, the risk was taken.

IN EVALUATING the Roosevelt action it should be kept in mind that he was acting in the standard tradition of international custom. This was to recognize and open diplomatic relations with any nation whose government was de facto and stable.

The United States had adhered to that custom for a century and a quarter.

In fact, "the other Roosevelt," Theodore, rushed to the recognition of Panama while American forces were protecting a smallish revolution on the Isthmus.

This high-handed act was repudiated when Wilson succeeded in getting Congress to compensate the Republic of Colombia for the damage.

President Wilson broke with tradition at the time of the Huerta revolution in Mexico, withholding recognition on account of his disapproval of the regime there.

It was that policy of interpreting recognition as approval that was followed when the Bolsheviks came into power in Russia.

To seal the terms of recognition and to act as first ambassador, Stalin sent to the United States the smoothest, and perhaps best disposed toward us, of his commissars, Maxim Litvinov.

Litvinov and the President made some high-sounding agreements.

In settling the Soviet debt to us, we were more than generous. The President even went so far as to make an executive agreement which substantially denied private American companies what the Soviet owed them.

This agreement overrode the constitutional provision that the Senate approve treaties.

LITVINOV AGREED "to respect the indisputable right of the United States to order its own life and to refrain from interfering in any manner in the internal affairs of the United States."

Despite this, the debt agreements were not fulfilled, and the Soviet espionage penetrated and corrupted elements in our government, our press, our foundations, and other aspects of our "internal affairs."

Nevertheless, the Soviet was trusted officially until long after President Roosevelt's death.

It is said that in the short time left to him after Yalta the Roosevelt trust in Stalin vanished but there is little evidence on this.

It is a sad story. But it may be doubted whether, considering the vast upheaval of the war which made us allies against Germany, the withholding of recognition would have helped.

The espionage would have existed here in some form, and the soft-headed Americans who became fellow travelers would still have been active.

The tragedy is that our government failed to realize until long after the hot war became the cold war that we were dealing with an enemy determined to destroy us and the civilization of which we are a part.

Time to Show Unity

Communists Are Concentrating on Europe

Although two weeks have passed since the congressional elections, no leader of the Democratic party has seen fit to make a public statement denying that the American people have repudiated the foreign policy of the Eisenhower administration.

Believing that the American people do not support the administration, Moscow has been encouraged to start a crisis in Berlin. The Kremlin doubtless is expecting the Democratic party position to be that Berlin isn't worth fighting for and that, like Quemoy and Matsu, the American notes of protest are just part of a "brink of war" maneuver by Secretary of State Dulles.

The tragic history of past behavior by dictator governments unfortunately confirms the fact that they move aggressively when they think the West is disunited and particularly when they think their strongest adversary is weakened by internal factionism.

Daniel Schorr, formerly correspondent of the Columbia Broadcasting System in Moscow and now stationed in Warsaw, broadcast the other day this comment from the Polish capital:

"The accent is on Europe. The Communists have apparently convinced themselves that the Eisenhower administration has been too paralyzed by its election defeat to offer adequate resistance to a diplomatic offensive now against West Germany."

ALMOST IMMEDIATELY after the recent congressional elections in the United States, in which the Republican party suffered a severe defeat, Premier Khrushchev told reporters that he interpreted the election to mean that the American people "have condemned the Dulles policy of positions of strength which is supported by Mr. Eisenhower." He added:

"People everywhere, including the American people, were opposed to the foreign policies of the Western nations."

While, as usual, putting in a hypocritical disclaimer about not wanting to interfere in the internal affairs of the United States, the Communist leader has revealed nevertheless that the American elections are regarded by him as a victory for the Communist position in world affairs.

More important now is what the Moscow premier does about it.

No End In Sight

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has had good intentions about holding down government spending. Despite this, spending has risen.

Now he will try again.

At his Nov. 5 news conference Eisenhower said that during his final two years in the White House he intends to fight against any excessive spending, which he called dangerous to the nation.

Ever since last summer — as happens every year — agency and department heads have been working on the budget; the President's estimate of what it will cost to run the government in the next fiscal year, starting July 1, 1959. He will submit this budget to Congress in January.

While Eisenhower has steadily preached economy, expenses have been steadily getting bigger. Biggest spender of all is the Defense Department, thanks especially to inflation and new weapons.

Of the almost 80 billion dollars which the government is expected to spend this year, more than half will be for national defense.

In one economy move, the Pentagon expects to trim 30,000 men from the Army and 25,000 from the Marines.

The following figures will give an idea of how government costs have risen, starting in fiscal 1953 in office and this country was still fighting the Korean War.

Before looking at them, remember a couple of things which keep showing up in these figures: the public debt and a deficit.

In World War II the government was never able to pay its expenses from the revenue it collected, mainly from personal income and corporation taxes.

So the government had to borrow money. It may never be able to pay that debt in full, but it will have to pay interest on it, with the interest coming from revenue.

The goal of each administration is to meet each year's expenses out of current revenue and have a surplus left over to pay on the debt. When expenses total more than revenue there is a deficit.

For example: In 1948, when defense spending was at a postwar low and just as the cold war was beginning, government expenditures were $33,100,000,000, the public debt was $252,300,000,000 and, instead of a deficit, the government wound up with a surplus of $8,400,000,000.

Now skip to 1953, when the United States was fighting in Korea, giving billions in foreign aid, and developing its atomic weapons and jet aircraft.

In that year expenditures to-

The fact that a crisis over the status of Berlin has been precipitated is significant of the Kremlin's belligerency. Its policy is evidently based on the idea that now is the time to press an advantage because the United States has a divided government.

It is regrettable that Sen. Lyndon Johnson, majority leader, who was invited by Secretary Dulles to speak this week at the United Nations on the subject of control of outer space, has not made an unequivocal statement on down-to-earth questions like Berlin, Formosa and the Middle East, where the Soviets may be doing some "brinkmanship" of their own.

It seems unfortunate that America is not presenting, through her opposing political leaders, some semblance of unity in world affairs.

HISTORY SHOWS that the danger of war increases when one side thinks the other is either too weak to fight back or is "paralyzed" by an election defeat, as Mr. Schorr phrased it in his broadcast. There are, of course, the pacifists and appeasers and the well-intentioned but mistaken critics of the administration who have raised the cry that Quemoy or Matsu are not worth fighting for.

Will they say the same of Berlin, which is really a symbol of freedom in Central Europe?

If America does not want to fall for the Communist trap, which seeks to detach the West German Republic from its position as an effective ally in NATO, then the capital city which means so much sentimentally to the German people must not be forfeited.

The Moscow regime certainly is taking risks not only in trying to force the recognition of the East German government as an independent entity but also in shooting at the planes of the U.S. Air Force over the Baltic and over the Sea of Japan — far from land.

This is a game that could lead to a crisis with grave complications.

The Moscow government has been for several months trying to test out American resoluteness. This was tried in the Middle East and resulted in the dispatch of American Marines to Lebanon.

Then the Far East was tested and now it's Central Europe.

When they look at the "cold war" map, the Communists are evidently betting on a retreat by President Eisenhower in the face of criticism from the dominant political party in America.

It certainly is a time for sincere bipartisanship in America.

The New York Herald-Tribune

taled $74,300,000,000, the debt was 261 billion, and the government had a deficit of $9,400,000,000.

In fiscal 1954 expenditures were down to $67,800,000,000, but the public debt was up to $271,300,000,000 and there was a deficit of $3,100,000,000.

In 1955, after Eisenhower had had time to look around, he cut spending to $64,600,000,000 but the debt was up to $274,400,000,000 and there was a deficit of $4,200,000,000.

That was the last year he was able to cut government spending.

This has been the score since: 1956 — Expenditures, 66½ billion dollars; public debt, $272,800,000,000; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

1957 — Expenditures, $69,400,000,000; public debt, 270½ billion; and a surplus of $1,600,000,000.

That was the last year Eisenhower had a surplus. From then on the deficit began to soar:

1958 — Expenditures, $71,900,000 and a deficit of $2,800,000,000.

Expenditures for the 1959 fiscal year — which ends next June 30 — are estimated at almost 80 billion, the public debt at $283,300,000,000 and the deficit at $12,200,000,000.

I agree with your editorial concerning the "bingo gnat." If gambling is wrong, and I believe it is, then it can't be made right by legalizing it to make the profit all right if only a collective group can have them.

As you say, it would benefit more than just church groups or charity organizations. In fact, those who would benefit most and enjoy their gambling the most would not have anything to do with either church or charity.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

If these words drip with acid, it's more sentiment than style. For I write the activities and whimsies of Johnny Dio's old friends who may be neglecting to write to him away up there in Danne-mora's Clinton Prison. They are in a unique manufacturing business — they make unions.

Until one of their boys got himself shot to death in a town outside New York City, they were doing right well across the U.S.—just turning out unions. By actual count, they've produced several hundred of them. They infringe no patents.

They just get a small office or even a Post Office box. They print a fancy parchment charter for a regional "union."

Then this outfit simply charters new local unions. Each is given a name that sounds as much as possible like one of the national AFL-CIO organizations.

So you shall know them, I list a few: The American Confederation of Labor, for example. Note the prefix "con."

THEY ARE the National Union of Butchers, Drivers, Helpers and Warehousemen of America, Amalgamated Metalcraft, Wood Plastic and Wire Workers of America, Affiliated Industrial Workers, The International Federation of Labor, Amalgamated Products Workers, United Industrial Union, United Brotherhood of Industrial Workers, The Aluminum Metal Alloys and Allied Trades, Amalgamated Barbers & Beauticians, Amalgamated Industrial Workers, The Northeastern Pennsylvania Needle Workers Assn., The Amalgamated Textile Union of America, the International Industrial Workers Union and the Interstate Industrial Workers Guild, Inc.

It was an "organizer" of this last outfit, Alfred Dugan, with a police sheet as long as a women-only hotel rule book who was shot by an industrialist the other day.

Typical of the operators of such masqueraded "unions" is one Louis Lasky, once devoted friend, mentor and union partner of Johnny Dio.

Brother Lasky has at least 10 such outfits. He directs them from headquarters in New York City and New Jersey.

IN EACH REGION he uses the same telephone number, same office, same address, same officials, different names and different letterheads.

Whenever he can, Lasky affiliates his units to a regional "office" and he then affiliates that with something called the National Independent Union Council.

Its headquarters have been in Des Moines, Iowa, for some time. On such sectional unit is Lasky's "Long Island Organizing Committee — Regional Council — NIUC."

When I spoke to one Don Mahon, executive secretary of the National Independent Union Council, he told me he had issued charters to Lasky but that the NIUC knew nothing of any racketeering or of the activities of Dugan, the dead man.

The NIUC has some 300 independent unions affiliated with it, Mahon told me. It competes with the AFL-CIO and has been asking U.S. Secretary of Labor James Mitchell for equal recognition along with the major labor organizations. Mahon said he would come east and look into the Dugan matter.

He has much to look into. These masquerading outfits, for the most part, simply walk down a street or a new shopping development. They sort out the different types of stores, shops and factories. They then pull out the proper sounding union name.

THE "ORGANIZER" goes in and demands "union" recognition. He wants dues and initiation fees from the handful of workers in the shop, owned by an utterly frightened owner.

They have moved in on firms with government defense contracts. When the y find a plant which doesn't fit into any of their special textile or metal or retail letterhead categories, they simply pull out credentials from an "amalgamated" or miscellaneous local.

Lasky shows real enterprise. He hires free lance organizers and gives them prizes for each member "signed up."

There is a flat sum of $10 per man. There are bonus prizes—a new car for 350 new members; a washing machine or a drier for 150 members; a refrigerator or freezer for 125 members; a TV, a hi-fi or tape recorder for 100; for 50 members, you're reduced to a portable radio and for 25 members on a lazy day, a makeup bag for women and an electric shaver for men. (This was discovered by the Association of Catholic Trade Unionists.)

And you thought free enterprise was gone in America.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrence Zellers

Jacqueline Stevenson Wed To Terrence Lee Zellers

Robbins Memorial Methodist Church in Washingtonville was the setting for the wedding of Miss Jacqueline Ann Stevenson and Terrence Lee Zellers Saturday evening.

The Rev. Robert E. Ferguson officiated at the double ring ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Hall Jr. of Washingtonville and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Zellers of Columbiana.

The chancel was enhanced with two baskets of white gladioli and mums and schefflera. Tapers in the twin seven-branch candelabra were lighted by Kirby Zellers, brother of the bridegroom.

Miss DeErla Smith of Leetonia was soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Zellers of Columbiana, an aunt of the bridegroom. Her selections were "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "O Perfect Love" while the couple knelt at the altar.

Attractively Gowned

For her wedding, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of white Chantilly lace over net and taffeta. A sash, neckline, trimmed with sequins and pearls, highlighted the fitted bodice styled with long sleeves. Tiers of net accented the front and back of the bouffant skirt.

Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion fell from double tiered queen's crown of iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade arrangement of cymbidium orchids and pink sweetheart roses.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were her four attendants in gowns of silk organza over taffeta. The ballerina-length frocks were fashioned with scoop necklines, short puffed sleeves, taffeta cummerbunds and butterfly back bustles. They wore matching queen's crowns and veils and mits.

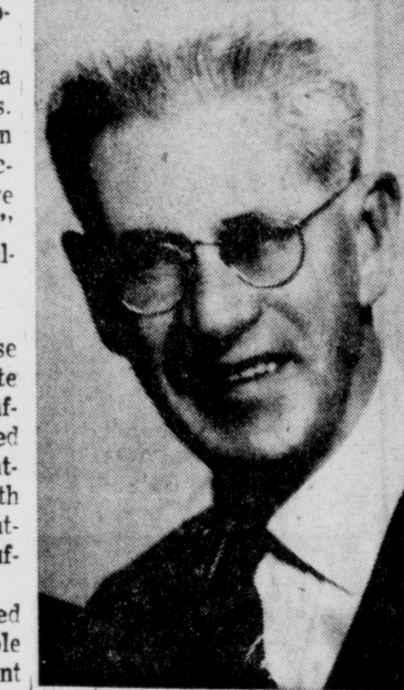

Miss Sandra Boston of Washingtonville was maid of honor and was attired in a mint green gown. Appearing in coral gowns were the bridesmaids, Miss Carolyn Hinchliffe, Miss Judy Spear and Miss Marilyn Hinderliter, all of Washingtonville.

The attendants carried cascade bouquets of white mums, tied with silver ribbon. They wore iridescent crystal drop necklaces, gifts of the bride.

Ronald Zellers of Columbiana served his cousin as best man. The couple married 45 years

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ward

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Ward of 239 S. Broadway will be honored at an open house reception Thanksgiving Day in honor of their 45th wedding anniversary. The celebration will be held from 2 to 4 and 7 to 10 p.m. at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard M. Brown of 365 W. 10th St.

Mr. Ward and the former Anna Apple were married Nov. 27, 1913 in Salem.

A member of the Knights of Pythias and the Independent Hose Co., Mr. Ward was employed by the Gas Co. for over 30 years. Mrs. Ward is a member of the Pythian Sisters.

The couple have another daughter, Mrs. Richard Zimmerman of Buena Park, Calif., and four grandchildren.

No invitations have been issued, but friends and relatives are invited to attend.

ushers were Fred Zellers of Columbiana, brother of the bridegroom, Kenneth Yonut of Warren, cousin of the bridegroom, Larry Indermill of Washingtonville, cousin of the bride, and Robert Beishelt of Columbiana.

Cymbidium orchids complemented the ensembles worn by the mothers of the couple. Mrs. Hall wore a winter white and silver sheath with poudre blue accessories, while Mrs. Zellers chose a rose beige lace over taffeta dress with pink and brown accessories.

Corsages of hybrid orchids were worn by Mrs. Ann Stevenson of Newport, Ky., grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Beulah Zellers of Columbiana, grandmother of the bridegroom.

300 At Reception

Three hundred guests attended the reception at Arrowhead Lake Park in Columbiana. Vases of white mums and candles graced the bride's table which was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride figure standing in a heart shaped arch of pink and white roses. Silver rings, roses and hearts in shades of pink and coral highlighted the cake.

Mrs. Heinz Tunnat, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Leroy Jones, aunt of the bride, of Washingtonville, and Mrs. Gay Zellers of Columbiana and Mrs. Frank Guv of Lisbon, aunts of the bridegroom, served.

Miss Virginia Mancuso of Leetonia registered the guests from Leetonia, Salem, Lisbon, Columbiana, Washingtonville, New Waterford, Alliance, Greenford Warren, Youngstown Cuyahoga Falls, New Philadelphia, Cleveland, Boardman, East Liverpool, South Euclid, Bessemer, Pa., Baltimore Md. and Newport, Ky.

Mrs. Zellers is a 1958 graduate of Leetonia High School. Her husband graduated from Columbiana High School in 1957 and is employed by his father.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D.C., and Shenandoah Valley, Va., the bride wore a rust and black wool sheath with black accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids. Upon their return, they will reside on Main St. in Washingtonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Zellers were hosts at the rehearsal party Friday evening at the Valley Golf Club, at which time the bridal couple presented gifts to their attendants. The former Miss Stevenson was honored recently at two bridal showers given by her attendants at the home of Miss Rosemary Troy of Leetonia and Mrs. Robert Boston and Mrs. Harry Davis of Washingtonville.

Brown-Miller Vows Planned on Dec. 23

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Brown of 520 Sherwood Ave., Youngstown announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Glenn Eugene Miller, son of Mrs. Lottie Miller of Canfield and Clarence Miller of Kensington.

An open church wedding has been planned for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 23 at the Tabernacle United Presbyterian Church in Youngstown.

Miss Brown is a graduate of Kent State University and is on the faculty at South High School. Mr. Miller, who served four years in the Navy, is a student at Kent State University.

Quota Club Will Purchase Hearing Unit

Members of the Quota Club approved the purchase of an auditory training unit at its regular meeting Tuesday evening at the Ruth Smucker House.

Mrs. L. C. Messersmith presided when Miss Lillie Orth, nursing instructor at the Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing, was initiated as a new member.

The training unit will be used by Mrs. John Baker, speech and hearing therapist in the public schools.

Miss Ala Zimmerman was program chairman. The program consisted of piano selections by Bonnie Minth and selections by the Salem High School octet comprised of Barbara Ford, Sue Windram, Bonnie Getz, Pat Roof, Robert Gusman, Larry Muntz, Robert Zeppernick, and Roger Mallory. Louise Oswald was the accompanist.

Plans for the Christmas project will be completed at the Dec. 2 meeting.

Chamberlains Mark Anniversary In Lisbon

Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Chamberlain of 201 E. High St., Lisbon, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at a family dinner on Saturday. The affair planned by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Detwiler, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Chamberlain and Frank Chamberlain, was held in the Detwiler home in Columbiana. The couple has one granddaughter.

Miss Eileen Varner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Varner of RD 5, Lisbon, and Walter N. Chamberlain, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chamberlain of Lisbon, were married Nov. 14, 1933.

Mr. and Mrs. Varner celebrated their 42nd wedding anniversary on Nov. 13.

Presbyterian Men, Women To Hear Talk by Frank Knecht

Frank W. Knecht Jr., vice president and general manager of the Brainerd Steel Division, Sharon Steel Corp., will be the principal speaker when the Salem Chapter, National Council of Presbyterian Men, meets Monday evening at the First Presbyterian Church.

The program will consist of the invocation, given by Jesse Pottorf, followed by group singing led by the Rev. Laten Carter, with Harold Benson accompanist. Devotion will be in charge of Elbert Viscant. A report on the organization and election of officers for 1959 will be carried out by Raymond Stiver, president.

Mr. Knecht, well known to many Salem residents, resigned as vice president of administrative planning with the Youngstown-Kent-Cheney Division to accept his present position with the Brainerd Division in May, 1957. He is a native of Philadelphia and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania with a Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering.

Mr. Knecht has chosen for his topic the Spanish words, "Que

Frank W. Knecht

Paso" which means roughly "What's Happening?"

The ladies of the Presbyterian Women's Association have been invited to attend as guests for the final meeting of the men's organization this year.

Medical Auxiliary Members Hold Tea

Twenty-one members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Columbiana County Medical Society enjoyed a tea Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. Fred Banfield of East Liverpool.

Mrs. William Banfield, president, opened the meeting with a Thanksgiving prayer.

Mrs. Paul W. Conrad of Leontonia spoke on the American Medical Education Foundation.

The program of music entitled "Make Mine Music" was given by pianist Mrs. Lucille Wagner of Georgetown, Pa.

The tea table, laid with an Italian cutwork cloth, was centered with an arrangement of pastel carnations in a silver bowl and silver candelabra. Mrs. M. D. Thompson presided at the tea service.

Members of the Columbiana County Medical Society will be guests at the Christmas dinner party Dec. 14 at 6:30 p.m. at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The social committee is comprised of Mrs. H. F. Banfield, chairman, Mrs. Roy Costello, Mrs. J. Fraser Jackson, Mrs. Robert Dunlap, Mrs. Jay Nedelkoff, Mrs. W. J. Horgan, Mrs. A. J. Michels, Mrs. W. S. Banfield and Mrs. Charles Gerace.

Margaret Lewis Feted At Kitchen Shower

Miss Margaret Lewis, bride-elect of James Longacre of Medina, was honored at a kitchen shower Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Albert Kenreigh Jr. of Ridgewood Drive.

Gifts were placed on a table decorated with white wedding bells.

Mrs. Leland Longacre, mother of the prospective bridegroom, and Mrs. DeForest Lewis, mother of the bride, presided at the refreshment table. A miniature bride and bridegroom encircled with yellow roses centered the table.

Linen gifts were presented to the honoree.

On Friday evening, the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Longacre, will be hosts at the rehearsal dinner at the Timberlans.

The couple will exchange their wedding vows Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in the First Methodist Church. Custom of open church will be observed, with the music schedule to begin at 4 p.m.

Questions and Answers

It seems strange that what appears to be one of the most common afflictions of women is frequently unrecognized.

Q — I often have pain on the lower right side of my abdomen, which seems to come about halfway between my periods. Can you suggest an explanation?

A — The most likely explanation is that these pains are related to the passage of the egg from the ovaries. This carries the German name of Mittelschmerz, which means essentially pain in the middle (of the period). One recent article stated that it occurs in one-third of all women.

The amount of pain varies considerably from woman to woman, may not be present every month, and may be severe enough to confuse with appendicitis. The pain usually does not last very long and must be considered normal rather than a sign of disease. It disappears, of course, at the menopause. As a rule, treatment is not needed or desirable.

Q — Are yellowish, fatty growths which have been diagnosed as xanthomata dangerous? What should be done for them?

A — They are not dangerous and should usually be left alone. If they interfere with the appearance too much, a skin specialist should be consulted.

Q — What can be done about excessive sweating in the armpits which sometimes has a bad odor?

A — The most common and usually effective treatment consists in the application of deodorants. Most commercial preparations, as well as prescription items, contain aluminum salts. It is thought that these lessen the activity of germs which may be present, and perhaps of the glands which discharge a milky secretion into the skin.

Q — As soon as I get out of bed in the morning I cough up a small amount of mucus which is streaked with black. I am 65 and had extensive mouth and throat surgery nine years ago. Could this have any significance?

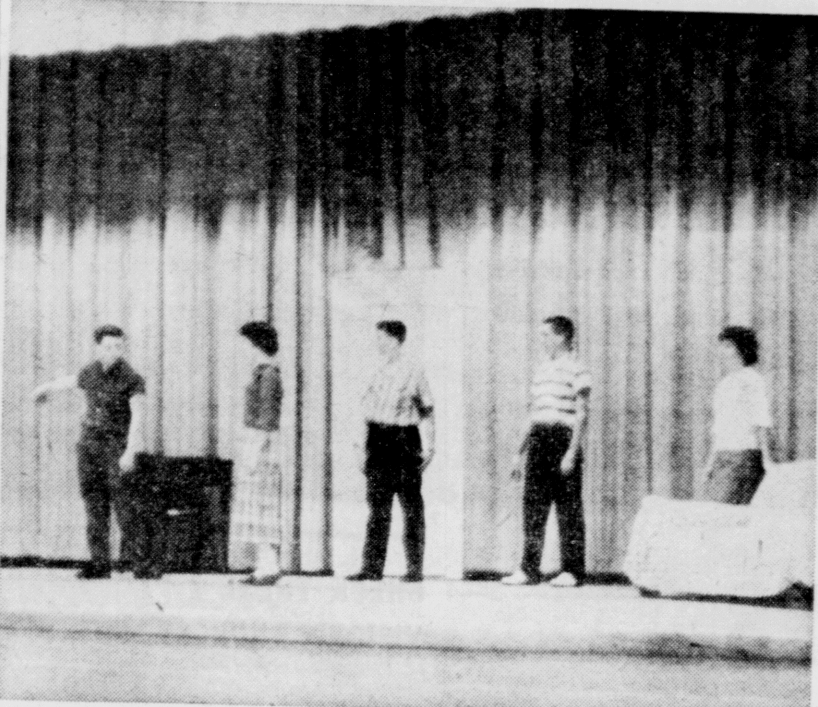

A — One would suspect that there might be blood in the mucus, though if so it seems strange that it does not occur at any other time of day. A sample of the mucus should be taken to the doctor and examined.

Q — Both my sister and I have overlapping little toes which seem to run in the family. Recently my sister had them amputated without ill effects and improved the appearance of her feet. She wants me to have mine cut off, but I am still not convinced. What are your views?

A — If the overlapping is troublesome and if it cannot be corrected by nonsurgical means, I should think there would be no special objection to amputation.

It would be desirable, I think, to have the heredity traced out in the entire family to find out how many other members had the toes amputated and what the results were.

Ohio Woman's Thumb Crushed by Icemaker

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton housekeeper was trapped for an hour Wednesday by a refrigerator.

Miss Della Peters, 51, reached inside an icemaking machine in the refrigerator this morning to free a stuck cube. Just then a set of blades came down on her hand. They were under hydraulic pressure.

Miss Peters screamed for an hour before she could awaken her invalid employer, Mrs. Chloe Hewitt, 72. Mrs. Hewitt finally hobbled to a wheel chair and telephoned the fire department.

Miss Peters suffered a crushed thumb.

CAN FIND TOYS NOW — Roy Albert Blivens, 7½ months old, learned to creep quickly after he was fitted with glasses. Eye tests were made after his foster mother, Sue Smith, noticed his grasp for toys missed the mark. The child is believed to be one of the youngest ever fitted with glasses. The five older children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blivens, of Bloomington, Ind., also wear glasses.

Utilities Commission to be Busy In 1959 With Railroad Cases

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Utilities Commission will be busy early next year studying requests of four railroads to make 13 changes in operation of their freight stations in small communities.

The commission today set hearing dates on the 13 requests, most of which came from the New York Central Railroad. The railroads claim the change will enable them to operate more economically.

The NYC wants to discontinue having agents at four stations. The stations and hearing dates are: Chauncey in Athens County, Jan. 29; LaRue in Marion County, March 19; West Mansfield in Logan County, Feb. 5, and DeGraff in Logan County Feb. 11.

The NYC wants to discontinue six stations. Stations and hearing dates are: Leon in Ashtabula County, March 12; Dunkirk in Hardin County, Feb. 26; Glenford in Perry County, March 5; Apex in Harrison County, and Wathey and Wattsville in Carroll County, all Feb. 18.

There will be a hearing Feb. 3 on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad request to eliminate its agent at Bloomingburg in Fayette County and remove the station building. The next day, there will be a hearing on the Pennsylvania Railroad's request to discontinue having an agent at Bridgeport in Belmont County.

Hearing on the Nickel Plate Railroad's request to discontinue its agent at Bolivar in Tuscarawas County will be Feb. 19.

Draft Call Cut by Defense Department

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department Wednesday cut the size of its next draft call. At the same time it ordered the armed services to begin a reduction of over 70,000 from present manpower strength.

The draft quota asked for January is 9,000 men. This is 2,000 below calls for the last several months and the lowest since December 1957 when 7,000 men were drafted. All draftees will be for the Army.

Simultaneously, the Pentagon announced that Secretary of Defense McElroy has ordered the Army, Marine Corps, Navy and Air Force "to begin action" to trim the total armed services manpower from a present 2,396,282 to 2,326,000 by next June.

McElroy's orders to the service secretaries said that "if it is feasible" to make the cut before next June, that may be done. The services are to report to him by Dec. 1 on what reduction steps have been taken.

Pentagon spokesmen said the cut in the January draft quota did not mean the department was working toward abandonment of selective service. On the contrary, they said, McElroy recently emphasized the continued need for the draft.

The draft law will expire June 30 unless it is re-enacted.

The Pentagon said the quota cut was possible because Army enlistments and grade enlistment rates have increased. It said the cutback in over-all strength also will influence the Army manpower draft requirements.

Doubtful Youth

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — We have just survived one of those storms of doubt that shake family life to the roots.

It was a new crisis in an old belief—a crisis for which I was quite unprepared.

Without any warning my daughter, Tracy, who is nearly half-past five, looked up from the floor, and asked: "Daddy, do you think there's a Santa Claus?"

"Well if there isn't," I replied absent-mindedly, "I don't know what the Democrats will do in 1960."

"Well, you know what I hear? I hear there ain't really any Santa Claus at all. It's just your father and mother all the time."

"Where did you hear that?" "Never mind," said Tracy, leaning up craftily. "But the word's going around. All the kids are talking about it."

There was a lengthy silence as my mind churned frantically. Long ago I had clipped out that fine old newspaper editorial, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus," foreseeing that some day it would come handy in just such an emergency. But I couldn't remember where I'd put it.

"Well, Daddy, what do you think about Santa Claus?" prodded Tracy. "Tell me truly."

"When I was a little boy we used to hang up our stockings every Christmas eve," I replied evasively. "And we always tried to get the biggest stocking we could find. We hoped Santa Claus would fill it up."

"The next morning, sure enough, it was full of nuts and candy—and right at the bottom of the sock was a great big orange, the best gift of all. People didn't have an orange every day then. What do you think of that?"

"It sounds to me like Santa Claus was pretty hard up in those days," said Tracy in one of the classic understatements of the 20th century.

But she dropped the subject. The other night when I came home she climbed up next to me on the sofa. She held a pencil and paper.

"Daddy, there are an awful lot of liars in this neighborhood," she said, smoothing out her dress.

"I mean about Santa Claus. They been saying it's just your father and mother. But I went to the department store with Mommy this afternoon. And guess who I saw.

"Santa Claus himself! He's even fatter this year. He's even fatter than"—words failed her for a moment—"He's even fatter than you."

I mulled over this insult. Tracy handed me the paper and pencil.

"I want you to help me write a letter to Santa Claus and tell him what I want him to bring me for Christmas."

"Why," I suggested, "don't you go back to the department store, climb up in old Santa's lap, give him a big kiss and tell him your self?"

"I'm scared to—after the things I've been saying about him the last two weeks," said Tracy. "I think we'd better deal with him by mail."

Trend Upside In Wednesday Stock Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held an irregular edge to the upside in active trading early Wednesday.

Some aircrafts and a wide variety of selected issues tilted the average slightly higher while the rails lagged. Gains and losses of most key stocks went from fractions to about a point. The market opened with trading heavy.

Business news remained fairly good. Polaroid jumped four points then halved the gain. Lorillard rose more than a point.

General Tire was ahead a point or more at one time, later reducing the rise to a fraction.

Douglas Aircraft was up around a point.

American Telephone, which reports quarterly finances today, dropped about a point in a cancellation of some recent gains. Eastman Kodak rebounded about two points. Kennecott was more than a point to the good. Raytheon, Union Carbide and National Distillers were gainers in the one-point zone.

Du Pont, Pfizer and Atlantic Coast Line were off approximately a point each.

U.S. Government bonds were steady.

Officers elected were: President, Mrs. Donald Crawford; vice president, Mrs. John Hall; secretary and Mrs. Reichard, treasurer. Mrs. Edna Kissel. It was voted to change the meeting dates to the second Thursday of each month. A Christmas party was planned for Dec. 4 at the Hippety Hop Restaurant.

Postman Is Held for Mail Embezzlement

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — A veteran railroad mail clerk accused of rifling three pouches of nearly $100,000 on a Portland-Boston train was arrested as he returned home Wednesday.

Robert S. Doucette, 42, father of five, was taken before U.S. Commissioner Herbert H. Sawyer for arraignment.

Doucette entered no plea and waived hearing on a charge he embezzled registered mail. Sawyer found probable cause and held the postal clerk in $5,000 bail.

The warrant said the money came from the First National Bank of Lewiston and Auburn. U.S. Dist. Atty. Peter Mills said Doucette allegedly opened three pouches while on the Portland-Boston run early today and removed $96,377 in Federal Reserve System transfer funds.

He also took what is called a "test letter" containing about $250, Mills said.

Mills said he understood that Doucette, a transportation clerk since 1941, had been under surveillance for some time.

In Boston, Arthur Lagace, assistant postal inspector in charge said three registered letters were taken from the train.

Lagace said the letters were found in Doucette's possession. The rifled pouches were found in an auto parked outside the station.

Doucette's arrest followed investigation of reported losses from mail going out of Portland.

New York Hippo Heads West to Denver Zoo

NEW YORK (AP)—Soon there will be one less huge mouth to feed at the Bronx Zoo. Bertie, a 2-year-old, 1,200-pound hippopotamus, is heading west.

His parents, Falstaff and Rose II, are all the hippos the zoo can handle. So, New York City put Bertie on the block.

The top bid, $2,450 or about $2 a pound, came from Arthur E. Johnson, chairman of the board of the Argo Oil Corp. of Denver. He has ticketed Bertie for the Denver Zoo.

School Leader Hits Trouble In Norfolk Va.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Norfolk's superintendent of schools testified today "it is very tragic" for the thousands of white pupils locked out of six integration-closed schools "to miss the education to which they are entitled."

These pupils will have difficulty getting into college and their future job opportunities will be greatly affected, Supt. John J. Brewbaker told a three-judge federal court.

Brewbaker was the first witness at a hearing of a suit, brought by 15 white parents and 11 children attacking the constitutionality of Virginia's school closing law. The suit seeks reopening of the six white secondary schools.

The closings, which occurred Sept. 29 upon the enrollment of 1 Negroes in compliance with a federal court desegregation order, has had a "very demoralizing effect on the teachers in the schools," Brewbaker testified. The schools have a total enrollment of about 10,000.

If the schools do not open soon the teachers will leave the city, he said.

LEETONIA

Citizens Meet With Mayor To Discuss Youth Center Plans

LEETONIA — A group of interested citizens and organization representatives met with Mayor Ralph B. Kennedy Monday evening to discuss the possibility of establishing a Youth Center in Leetonia.

It would provide a meeting place for teen-age activities; it would be conducted by youths, chaperones and with rules set up by directors and officers both adult and teen-age.

General public meeting will be held at the high school on Monday, Dec. 1 at 8 p.m. following the business session of the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association. Mayor Kennedy will contact nearby towns having youth centers to ask for representatives to attend this meeting. They will answer questions and pass on information as to cost, establishing procedures, activities and performance.

Every organization in Leetonia, Washingtonville and Franklin Square is asked to have ten representatives (five men and five women preferred when possible) at this meeting. Others are also asked to attend. Organizations will be contacted with this information. Any other interested people should attend.

Many citizens have felt a Youth Center is definitely needed for our young people. This is an important project and should be the interest of everyone in this vicinity.

If this becomes a reality, it will be a Leetonia-Washingtonville Youth Center project including the Leetonia School District and mailing addresses. To succeed, it will require work from all of us—adults and students as well.

Will you show everyone you are interested in your welfare by coming to this public meeting, at 8 o'clock on Monday, Dec. 1.

MRS. ETHEL LLEWELLYN was named worthy matron for 1959 when the Order of Eastern Stars met Monday. Other officers elected were: worthy patron, Lawrence Kibler; assistant matron, Mrs. Edith Lewis; assistant patron, Luther Lipp; secretary, Mrs. Freda Spattholt; treasurer, Adelaide Weikart; conductress, Mrs. Evelyn Reese; assistant conductress, Miss Mary Ellen Cutchall and trustee, Donald Vignon.

Installation of officers will be held Monday, Dec. 15.

A special meeting of the Eastern Stars will be held Saturday, Nov. 29 at 8 p.m. which will be followed with a party at 9:15 p.m. A program and entertainment has been planned for all Eastern Stars, Masons and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spattholt has returned home after several days visit in Monticello and Williamsburg, Va., last week.

More than 150 members of the Knights of Columbus were present when the Leetonia Knights of Columbus Council was host to a Corporal Breakfast Sunday morning. Members of the Lewisville, Salem and Alliance councils were guests. Eugene Perry, Catholic activity chairman had charge of the breakfast which was prepared by the Ladies Auxiliary of the K. of C. Prior to the breakfast the men attended Mass at St. Patrick's Church.

Election on Sunday Proposed by Senator

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Langer (R-ND) wants national elections held on Sundays in hopes more people will vote.

Langer said today European nations get a better voter turnout with Sunday balloting than the United States does on Tuesdays. Langer said he will introduce a bill in January to provide that elections be held on the first Sunday in November.

Cincinnati Police Hunt Driver of Hit-Skip Car

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police were on the hunt today for the driver of an automobile which struck and killed a Cincinnati woman and her 8-year-old son here Wednesday night at a street intersection.

Victims of the accident were Mrs. Annette Zimmerman, 37, and her son, Robert.

They had just alighted from the family automobile and started across busy Montgomery Road at a pedestrian crosswalk. Gerald Zimmerman, the husband and father of the victims, and two Zimmerman daughters were in their car but did not see the accident.

Police said witnesses told them the driver of the car slowed momentarily after the accident and then sped away.

Congress to Map Program for '59

Ike, GOP Leaders Will Cut Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders will meet with President Eisenhower early next month to map next year's legislative program under a White House injunction to hold down spending.

The President set what appeared to be the administration's guidelines for the incoming Congress at a meeting Wednesday with Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, the House GOP leader.

"The general policy will be to cut down wherever possible," Martin reported afterwards.

Later, Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas told a news conference the new, heavily Democratic Congress will be "prudent and careful of the taxpayers' dollar both at home and abroad."

Excess of Appropriations
"In some areas I think there will be an excess of appropriations above what the President asks," Johnson said. "But in a good many areas the appropriations will be less."

Martin made clear that administration objectives for the two years of the 86th Congress will be to avoid increasing the budget deficit—estimated at more than 12 billion dollars for this fiscal year—and to hold the line on the government's indebtedness.

The White House conference between Eisenhower and GOP congressional leaders is due around Dec. 10. It will deal chiefly with budget problems for the fiscal year starting next July.

Johnson, who met with Eisenhower Tuesday night, said the President has invited Democratic leaders to go over the legislative program with him. No date has been set for this meeting.

For the next two years, Eisenhower must deal with enlarged Democratic majorities in both House and Senate.

These Democratic gains are expected to be reflected in demands for new social, defense and farm legislation requiring more spending.

Mishap

The train was approaching at 75 miles an hour.

"I saw nothing but a cloud of dust on the tracks about 250 feet ahead of me," said engineer William Ryder, 63. "I put on the emergency brake. Two or three seconds later came the impact. It took another 125 yards to bring the train to a halt."

The pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Schmidt, Cincinnati, was taken to the station hospital for observation.

Police

moned for jury duty, said he told Cunningham it "would handicap me financially" to serve as a juror, and Cunningham replied, "Don't worry about the difference in pay; that will be taken care of."

Lockhart, however, was not seated as a juror.

Cunningham was arrested Saturday night on a charge of attempting to "corrupt or influence" a juror.

East Liverpool Police Chief Americo Radeschi testified that Cunningham after his arrest asserted: "This is the last straw. If they want me to talk they can just call the grand jury. When I do start talking, I will involve more than just the police department."

Atty. Hugo Alexander, in seeking a declaration of mistrial, said it was assumed the jurors had read newspaper accounts and said the influence of publicity would prevent a fair trial. He offered in evidence copies of newspapers.

Prosecutor Brokaw said he objected "strenuously" to any mistrial ruling. He said it was not the state's fault that a witness was found missing, that a juror had been telephoned or that an attempt was made to influence a prospective juror.

Judge Buzzard, in rejecting the mistrial request, said the aspects of the trial were newsworthy and the court had no power over what was reported in open court.

The judge referred to the appeal of Dr. Samuel Sheppard of Bay Village a few years ago for a new trial on a murder charge on the grounds of undue publicity. "Certainly this trial is not on the same plane as the Sheppard case, and the Supreme Court refused his request," the judge declared.

He added, "You can't try a case in a vacuum."

"The judge said in reference to a defense claim that irrelevant testimony had been permitted, that all evidence met the requirements for admissibility."

The next police burglary trial is tentatively slated for Dec. 1. Assignment Commissioner Norman Ward said today. It will be a retrial of Cunningham and Carroll for a burglary of the Smith and Phillips Co. in 1952. The first trial ended Oct. 31 with the jury unable to reach a verdict.

COLUMBIANA

Council Accepts Bid For New Fire Truck

COLUMBIANA — Another step toward acquiring a new fire truck for the Columbiana Volunteer Fire Dept. was taken by village council Tuesday night after lengthy consideration of six bids submitted in response to recent advertising.

By unanimous action of its six members, council instructed the village solicitor to draw up a resolution accepting the bid of Harry Sutphen Fire Equipment Co. of Columbus on supplying a Peter Pirsch Pumper, manufactured by Peter Pirsch Apparatus Co., Kenosha, Wis.

The bid quoted a price of $18,995 and meets all specifications contained in the advertisement.

One other bid was slightly lower, but the equipment offered did not meet specifications since a different type of pump was offered from that described in the advertisement.

That bid was $18,875.19, by Fire Equipment Sales and Service of Sebring, representing Central Fire Truck Corp., St. Louis, Mo.

The four remaining bids were as follows: John Bean Fire Truck Co. of Lansing, Mich., $20,077.86; Capt. A. J. Mannweiler and Son Co. of Massillon, $19,500 (with exceptions to specifications); Youngstown Mack Truck Sales, $19,988; Sharpsville Steel Tank Fabricators, Sharpsville, Pa. (with exceptions), $19,838.

The resolution accepting the bid is scheduled to be presented at the Dec. 2 meeting of council.

freighter on the Great Lakes, and of their praying and shivering on the tossing raft in near-freezing temperatures.

Fleming, the Bradley's first mate and a 43-year-old veteran of sailing the Great Lakes, did most of the talking.

"I was in the pilot house on watch with the captain," he said. "We heard a thud. Then the alarm bell started ringing."

"Something spun us around," he said. "Then we looked down on the deck. It wasn't hard to see something was wrong. The stern was sagging."

Fleming managed to get off a distress signal on the Bradley's radio. Then he was in the cold water. It was almost sundown.

"We climbed on the raft and held on with all we had."

At first there were four on the raft, a firmly built orange-painted wooden structure with a low metal railing and metal pontoons.

Raft Took Flip
"We lost one of them when the raft took a complete flip," Fleming said. "I swam until I got back to it. Then I helped the others get back on."

Twice more the waves whipped up by a 60-mile-an-hour wind lifted the raft and overturned it.

"I've never been so cold in my life," Fleming said. "Ice was beginning to form on my jacket and in my hair."

Mays, 26, was below decks in the conveyer room when the mysterious thud and the alarm bells sent him running to deck.

"Once we got on the raft," he said, "I thought we'd be all right. I knew they would find us."

The Bradley carried one raft and two lifeboats. Although there were scattered reports of debris, the two lifeboats were not found in the first day of the search.

There were reports that the 615-foot Bradley split in two after an explosion.

Slight Explosion
Fleming said he believed there was a slight explosion just as the stern sank.

Norman Hoeft, manager of Bradley Transportation Lines, said there was nothing on the ship that could cause an explosion big enough to sink it.

The Bradley was carrying about 9,000 tons of water ballast—about two-thirds its payload tonnage capacity enroute to Rogers City, Mich., the home of Mays and Fleming and most crew members, after delivering a load of limestone at Gary Ind.

Elderly Man Wounded In Hunting Accident
EAST PALESTINE — Oliver Yarian, 72, of the New Waterford-Negley Road was slightly wounded in the back of the head Wednesday at 11:30 a.m. by two shotgun pellets from the gun of a hunter.

Yarian did not secure medical treatment.

The elderly man said he was trimming apple trees in his orchard when a hunter fired at a pheasant in an adjoining corn field, and the pellets struck him.

Teacher Is Hired By E. Palestine Board
EAST PALESTINE — Miss Lisa Baumgartner, a graduate of Bowling Green State University, was hired by the Board of Education Tuesday night as a home economics instructor in the high school effective Jan. 1.

Miss Baumgartner will fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Mrs. George Fisher.

The board also granted a leave of absence to Miss Elizabeth Braden, first grade teacher at the E. North Ave. School who is in ill health. The board hired Mrs. George Hill to fill this vacancy.

The board took favorable action on the request from the teachers' committee for an extension of sick leave provisions to cover the immediate family.

Charles W. McMannis

Charles Wilson McMannis, 76, of 890 E. State St. died at his home Wednesday at 7 p.m. following a four-month illness.

Born March 22, 1882 in Jefferson County, he was a son of Charles and Elizabeth Jones McMannis. He lived in Salem six years, coming from Imperial, Pa.

He was a member of the First Friends Church. He was a carpenter and a painter, and for the past four years was employed by the Friends Church as custodian.

He is survived by his wife, Cora; two sons, Harold G. of Cadiz and Richard C. of Coraopolis, Pa.; two daughters, Mrs. Gladys Moore of Avonmore, Pa., and Mrs. Elizabeth M. Kibler of Salem; two sisters, Mrs. Lily Bresch and Miss Bessie McMannis, both of Wheeling, W. Va.; a brother, Edward of Short Creek; a half-brother, Wilbur Twig of Cadiz; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Service will be Saturday at 1 p.m. at the Stark Memorial Funeral Home, with the Rev. Harold B. Winn, pastor of the Friends Church officiating.

Burial will be in Cadiz Cemetery. Friends may call Friday night at the Memorial.

Berlin

Western officials here had been expecting some kind of formal notice from the Russians to the Americans. British and French who with the Soviet Union have been occupying Berlin for 13 years.

Bonn and its Western Allies have long maintained that West Berlin, although surrounded by East German territory, is within the Western orbit and will remain so until all Germany is reunified through free elections.

A Western diplomat Moscow's tactics about Berlin were similar to those displayed during the Middle East and Far East crises.

"They try to get everybody excited," he said. "What they would like to hear is a lot of talk about Berlin not being important enough to go to war about."

But, he asserted, the Western Powers—including West Germany—are determined to stand fast and not panic.

Smirnov saw the West German leader for more than an hour. It was believed to be the first information given to a Western statesman on what the Soviet Union intends to do about Berlin since Premier Khrushchev 10 days ago called for an end to the four-power occupation.

Board Will Act on Beaver Fiscal Measure

The County Election Board is scheduled to act tonight on a resolution from Beaver Local School District requesting a special election Dec. 30 on a half-mill levy combined with a $220,000 bond issue — $11,000 more than the proposal the district's voters turned down Nov. 4.

The twin fiscal measures are designed to satisfy requirements for a state grant to enlarge building facilities. Requiring a bare majority for passage, a half-mill levy and a $209,000 bond issue were rejected on a combination ballot on Nov. 4 with 1,015 in favor and 1,178 against.

The 58-year-old general declined to answer any more questions. President Nasser is making a strong bid to win the new Sudanese regime to his brand of Arab nationalism despite fears in Cairo that the coup was engineered by anti-Nasser elements.

The U.A.R. was the first country to recognize the new regime. Things did not go the way Nasser planned in the Sudan, but he is willing to join them if he cannot lead them.

The Cairo press is portraying the Abboud coup as an anti-imperialist maneuver designed to foil British-American plots against Sudan.

British experts in London say Abboud's coup apparently was intended to forestall any concessions to Nasser, who has been pressing Sudan about Nile River water, border demarcation and other disputes.

Boston's Jackie Jensen Named MVP in American League

Rocky Colavito In Third Place

Turley of Yankees In Runnerup Spot

BOSTON (AP)—Jackie Jensen, whose slugging helped the Boston Red Sox to a third place finish, today was named the American League's most valuable player in the 1958 season.

The 31-year-old outfielder ended the New York Yankees' four-year hold on the coveted award by drawing 233 points in the balloting by a 24-member committee of the Baseball Writer's Assn. of America.

New York right-hander Bob Turley, the major league's pitcher of the year, was runnerup with 191 points, followed by Cleveland's Rocky Colavito with 181 and Kansas City's Bob Cerv with 164.

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, the 1956 and '57 MVP winner, failed to gain a first place vote and was fifth with 127 points, next with 95 votes followed by American League batting champion Ted Williams of the Red Sox with 89.

The voting was by three baseball writers in each of the American League cities between the end of the regular season and the start of the World Series. A first place vote was worth 14 points, a second 9 points, a third 8, down to 1 for 10th.

Jensen, who lead the league in runs batted in with 122, earned a place on all but one ballot. He received nine first place votes, six second, three thirds, two fourths, two fifths and one eighth.

Turley had seven first place votes, but was not named on three ballots. Colavito picked up four firsts but failed to earn a point from two voters.

Cerv, who despite injuries crushed 38 homers, drove in 104 runs and batted .305, was the only player named on all 24 ballots. He was placed on top on three ballots and had one second.

Chicago's Nellie Fox, who trailed Williams by a single point with 88, was the only other player awarded a first place vote. He was named on 17 ballots.

Jensen tapered off after a tremendous first half in which he hit 24 homers, drove in 68 runs and batted .311 to earn a starting berth in the All Star game. He wound up with 35 homers and a .286 average.

Told of his award at his home in Lake Tahoe, Nev., Jensen said: "Oh, that's wonderful. This thrills me to death. You have no idea how happy this makes me. The MVP is the ultimate to all ball players."

Eagles' Buck Shaw Prepares for Browns

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Coach Buck Shaw says his Philadelphia Eagles will "have to play better than we've played so far."

"We have to contain Jimmy Brown and stop the passing of Milt Plum and Jim Ninowski. It won't be easy, but we can do it."

The Eagles can upset the Cleveland Browns Sunday at Cleveland, Shaw said, "if everyone stays awake and we don't make the usual silly mistakes."

The big problem for the Eagles will be to improve their tackling, the coach declared.

"We've been tackling off balance, pawing at the runner. To stop a runner like Brown you have to wrap your arms around him, hit him solid. We've been guilty of shoddy tackling and that's what we're going to work on for Sunday."

Despite his rejection of Plum and Ninowski, Shaw did not seem too much worried about Cleveland's passing game.

"When I was in this league before with San Francisco, and we got ready for the Browns, we had to concentrate on stopping their passing game. They always passed more than they ran. Now they run more than they pass," he remarked.

Palestine, Poland Put 3 Men Each On 1958 Tri-County All-Star Team

East Palestine and Poland dominated the 1958 Tri-County League all-star team selected last night in Alliance at a meeting of all the league coaches.

Each squad placed three men on the first eleven while every other team in the circuit but Minerva put at least one man on the first team.

East Palestine, Louisville and Sebring each placed two men on the second team while each of the other five schools had one man on the second team.

The coaches did not name positions in the backfield but placed four men on each team. The first team backfield as a result has one quarterback and three fullbacks.

Hendron, Vogelhuber Obtain Posts At Saxon Bowling Alley

John Hendron of 1765 Southeast Blvd. has been named manager and Joe Vogelhuber of RD 2, Salem has been chosen pin-spotter, mechanic, respectively, of the "Saxon Lanes" bowling alley following a meeting of the Salem Saxon club's board of directors held recently.

The new 12-lane alley is being built adjacent to the Saxon Club on Railroad St. and is due to be completed no later than Jan. 1, 1959.

Hendron has had vast experience in bowling having formerly owned and operated a 12-lane alley in Cleveland before coming to Salem in 1953. He is a past president of the Euclid Catholic League, Cleveland's largest bowling league which is comprised of 40 teams.

Vogelhuber has had considerable experience in bowling and now is active in four leagues about Salem. He and Hendron will attend an American Machine and Foundry (AMF) school in Shelby prior to their assuming of duties.

Saxon Lanes will feature automatic pin spotters, underground ball returns, gas heaters and air conditioning and high frequency lighting.

Work on the alleys is being done by the Riley Construction Co. of Alliance under supervision of the Bergmann and Smith architects of Alliance.

Future reservations for the alleys may be made with Hendron by calling him at ED 7-8094 or ED 7-9238.

E. Palestine, Osterling Tops In County In Scoring Honors

East Palestine undefeated and 17th ranked Bulldogs not only compiled the best win-loss record in Columbiana County during the past season but also the best offensive and defensive records.

Bill Mallory's team was 9-0 on the season scoring 282 points to their opponents 76.

Salem was second in team records with a 7-2 mark and second in scoring with 249 markers. They were fourth in defense behind EP, Salineville and United Local.

Bob Osterling of Leetonia won the individual scoring crown with 101 points to rank way ahead of second place Denny Reese of Lisbon who collected 82 markers.

Salem's Ralph Ehrhart was third with 72 points while the Quakers' Lou Slaby was sixth with 54 points. Final team records, team scoring and individual scoring in the county is as follows:

Palestine	9	0	0	282-76
Salem	7	2	0	249-99
Salineville	5	3	0	76-83
Lisbon	6	4	0	245-139
Leetonia	4	4	1	173-183
United	2	4	2	104-98
Liverpool	2	6	2	108-218
Wellsville	2	6	1	86-252
Beaver Local	2	6	0	62-232
Columbiana	2	7	1	92-157
Fairfield-W	1	6	0	44-282

White, who has gained 635 yards without once being thrown for a loss, needs to carry the ball only 10 times against Michigan to better the record number of carries by Minnesota's Paul Giel in 1953.

White has made 154 trips in six games and has scored 60 points. His rushing yardage of 635, however, is far short of the record 919 by Illinois' J. C. Caroline in 1952.

Kreitling, tied with Iowa's Curt Merz with 18 pass receptions, has gained 540 yards and scored five touchdowns. A good day against Northwestern could surpass the record yardage of 650 set by Northwestern's Joe Collier in 1953 on 24 catches. Collier's seven touchdowns that year also stands as a record which Kreitling can challenge.

Spider Webb Easy Winner Over Giardello

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Spider Webb's slashing, bloody victory over Joey Giardello brought clamor today for a shot at the middleweight title from two corners.

Webb contended his seventh-round TKO Wednesday night entitled him to a fight with Sugar Ray Robinson.

Shortly after referee Vern Bybee stopped the gory Cow Palace fight, Marv Jensen issued a statement claiming his ex-champ, Gene Fullmer, rates the next crack at Robinson.

Fullmer, ranked No. 2 behind Carmen Basilio, beat the fourth-ranked Webb in September. Giardello was No. 3.

Whatever happens, Webb keeps busy. The college-educated Chicagoan collected about $13,000, including $4,000 television fees—a nice present on his 27th birthday today. Webb goes to London for his next fight, Dec. 9, against British champion Terry Downs.

After that: "I feel I should get a crack at the title."

Webb, 158½, opened a cut under Giardello's left eye in the fourth as he moved ahead on points. In the sixth, he cut Joey badly above the same eye and the 159-pound veteran from Rosedale, N.Y., was smeared with his own blood.

Bybee called a halt after 1:30 in the seventh with both fighters covered with blood.

The victory was Webb's 30th in 34 professional fights. Giardello lost his 15th in 98.

Tribe's Daley Claims 'Things Looking Up'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Things are looking up for the Cleveland Indians and no one could be happier than William R. Daley, Tribe board chairman.

"The atmosphere at the stadium is one of success," Daley said Wednesday at a meeting of the Back-The-Indians committee.

Two developments prompted Daley's enthusiasm. The advance ticket sale for the 1959 season has improved. And a battle on the board of directors has ended.

Commented Daley: "Our ticket sale is way ahead of what it was last year. We are extremely hopeful that the fans will turn out in greater numbers next season."

A dissident faction of directors and stockholders, headed by Hank Greenberg, has sold out to the majority stockholders, ending a struggle for control of the Indians. Greenberg and two brothers, Charles M. and Andrew Baxter, were critical of the club's operation and said so publicly. As soon as details of the stock purchase can be worked out they will resign as directors.

Most of the Tribe's trouble stemmed from a steady drop in attendance. When rumors started circulating that the Indians would leave Cleveland, the Back-The-Indians committee was formed.

Saturday Final Big Football Day

Teams Bid Farewell To Season's Stars

By The Associated Press

This Saturday is swarmping day for a lot of good football talent around the nation's college campuses and you can look for all-out efforts on the part of all concerned to leave the partisans—and some bowl scouts—with a favorable last impression.

Most of these stalwarts will be playing in post-season all star or major bowl games but this is their last partisan fling.

Rutgers bids good-bye to half-back Billy Austin, considered its greatest all-around back and one of the best ever to play in the East.

Princeton tailback Dan Sachs plays his last game for Princeton when it opposes Dartmouth for the Ivy League title.

There'll be plenty at stake at Chapel Hill, N. C., and Morgantown, W. Va. At Chapel Hill, North Carolina entertains arch-rival Duke and the Tar Heels are still bowl-hopping. Senior quarterback Jack Cummings will have a lot to say. He went through a long passing drill Wednesday in preparation for the Blue Devils.

Duke, which will try to keep Cummings from setting a host of Atlantic Coast Conference and school records, has Wray Carlton, its backfield ace of the past two seasons, as the only healthy starting back.

At Morgantown, two quarterbacks play their final regular games. West Virginia's Dick Longfellow, the Southern Conference offense leader, tries to pitch his team to its fifth victory in 10 games. His opponent, Syracuse's Chuck Zimmerman, will try to guide the Orange to a seventh straight victory, ninth in 10 games, and an Orange Bowl bid.

Maryland's guard Rod Breedlove, will bow out against Virginia. The Terps spent their final hard practice session prepping for an expected onslaught of passing from Cavalier quarterback Reece Whitley.

Iowa quarterback Randy Duncan, who will be seen again in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, plays his final game before the home folks when the Big Ten champs take on Notre Dame. Capt. John Nocera, another senior, will be at fullback in place of Don Horn.

Don Clark plays his final game for Ohio State when the Bucks meet Michigan.

Twyman Hits for 45 As Royals Top Celtics

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics, overwhelming choices to repeat as Eastern Division champs in the National Basketball Assn., are having their troubles.

Although Bob Cousy, Bill Sharman and Bill Russell—Boston's big three—had 73 points among them the Celtics dropped a 119-103 verdict to the Cincinnati Royals Wednesday night. It was the only game on the NBA slate.

Jack Twyman, one of the few veterans on the Cincinnati squad, scored 45 points as the Royals came from behind and put an end to their losing streak at seven games. They hadn't won in 3½ weeks.

The setback dropped the Celtics three games behind leading New York and 1½ behind runner-up Syracuse. The Royals pulled within a game of third place Minneapolis in the Western Division.

Riffles, Farmers, Burton, Millers Win City Basketball League Tilts

Riffle's Plumbing won over Schaffer Ford 57-53, Farmer's Bank downed Bennetts 62-52, Burton Ford smashed Speaker's Market 72-45 and Miller's Service beat the Salem News 55-39 in last night's action in the Wednesday Division of the Salem City Basketball League.

Riffles trailed Schaffers 41-37 going into the last quarter but outscored their rival 20-12 in the frame to take the decision.

For the winners Norm Hill hooped 21 points while Martin Lutsch had 13 for the losers.

Bruce Feicht scored 26 points for Bennetts but it couldn't overcome the balanced scoring of the Farmers team. Dick Beall had 16, John Stephenson 13 and Jerry Myers 12 for the winners.

Four men scored in the double figures as Burtons downed Speakers. Phil Wenner had 18, Gene Kitzmiller 16, Marion Kitzmiller 15 and Curt Nicholson 13.

Jack Dowd was high for the losers with 17.

The Salem News led Millers 20-19 at the half but scored only six points in the third quarter to fall behind 39-26 going into the final stanza.

Ron Zellers had 18 for the winners while Tim Laubscher had 11 for the News squad.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS L. LIDE

Hunting pressure was down considerably on opening day, perhaps due to the intermittent rains that watered down the enthusiasm.

Pheasants and rabbits sat tight and moved only to get out from under the hunters' feet. Under such conditions a hunter has to tramp an area thoroughly or pass up game he never sees.

One group of hunters in Knox Township told me they saw 9 rabbits and about 30 pheasants, yet they had only one rabbit between the four. Naturally I wanted to know what was the matter. A spokesman said, "We are just plain lousy shots."

Raccoon hunters did alright. From all reports, it was no trouble to get a ring-tail going and in some instances a whole family of four was put up one tree. Each hunter is allowed four 'coon and not just four to the party as some continue to argue.

Pheasants were scarce in the Zepernick area. The habitat has been improved considerably with plenty of grasses, legumes and long strips of multi-flora rose plantings now in evidence. Travel lanes have been provided and openings by strip-mowing gives the hunter a shot at pheasants and rabbits once they get moving.

Upset Stomachs Hit Tourney Contestants

MEXICO CITY (OP)—The International Golf championship and Canada Cup matches got under way today, but there was an upset before they started. Upset stomachs, that is.

Almost a dozen of the 64 players from 32 countries who teed off today in the world championship of golf suffered varying degrees of "turista" — upset stomachs — on the eve of the tournament.

Ben Hogan and Sammy Snead, the favored U.S. entries, were not hit.

Pills relieved the majority of those affected and tanks of oxygen at the ninth and 18 holes today will take care of others who have complained of the mile-and-a-half high altitude.

The brightest field yet for the International and Canada Cup matches went into action early this morning on the tough but beautiful 7,216-yard, par 72 Club de Golf Mexico course.

The two-man team with the lowest combined score will win the Canada Cup. Individual low scorer wins the International championship.

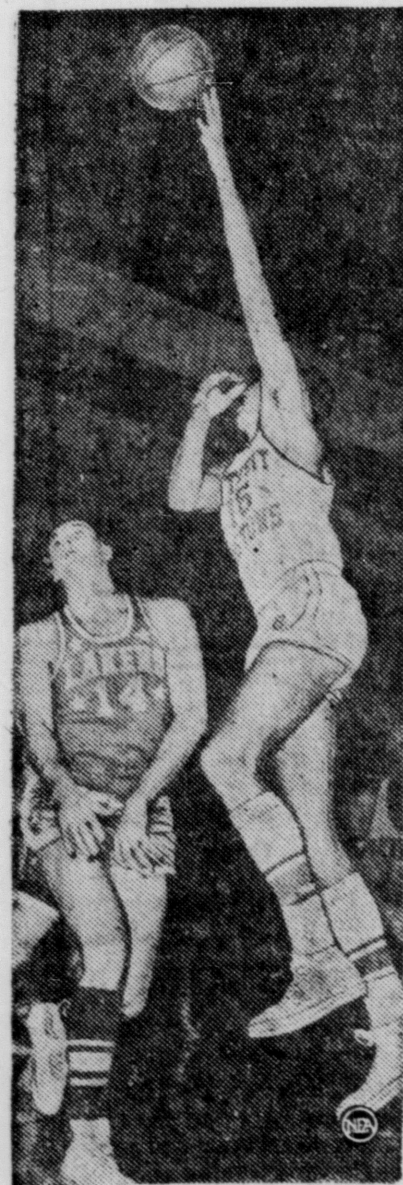

For a while Wednesday it was feared the field might be cut by illness. Several players reported for practice with upset stomachs.

They included John Panto of Scotland, Dave Thomas of Wales, Frank Phillips of Australia, Al Balding and Henry Martell of Canada, Bernard Hunt of England and Flory van Donck of Belgium.

Defending champion Torakichi (Pete) Nakamura of Japan and teammate Koichi Oho, upset victors last year over Snead and Jimmy Demaret, are on hand to defend their title. Both shot excellent rounds before today's tee-offs.

ON SECOND STRING

SYRACUSE, (AP)—Bobby Hart of Bellevue, Ohio, was elevated to the No. 2 right halfback spot by Coach Ben Schwartzwalder Wednesday. Hart, a 5-10, 175-pounder, was promoted for his performance last week in the victory over Colgate.

IN THE STRETCH — Phil Jordan of Detroit extends his six-foot-10 to advantage to hook a shot over Minneapolis' Larry Foust, caught flat-footed at Madison Square Garden in New York. Height counts here.

ahead and neither gets a shot when hunting straight ahead with each other.

Earl Ressler, the Mahoning County game protector, had very little time to check hunters and make a bag check of the game. Between hauling highway killed deer and answering complaints of violations in practically all parts of the county, it kept him on the jump. One deer was shot and still warm when he arrived. The violator got away but he didn't get the venison.

IN MY COUNTY hunters told me I was a few minutes late as two older men and three young fellows had just taken off that had been shooting hen pheasants and quail for several hours. You can't get rid of rats, they are always chiseling in.

The violations I ran across hardly justified arrests. The law is the law as far as that goes but I did not see the willful type all game protectors do not hesitate to order into court.

My county Judges have been very good to see that the few cases I have had before them are penalized accordingly.

In some other of the larger counties, the Judges seem to think that game violations are more or less trivial when the line up of violators include robbery, murder or rape. Following these cases, a game protector brings in a violator shooting at ducks after the legal hours.

After all, game law violators should be dealt with according to law and the importance of wildlife, being one of our major natural resources, should not be de-emphasized.

a NEW IDEA for a NEW ERA

Auto insurance that's actually merit rated

Your accident record sets your rate with the new SAFE-T-RATE plan!

EXCLUSIVE WITH NATIONWIDE—a bold new idea in auto insurance—based on a completely new concept of setting premium rates. SAFE-T-RATE, the plan Nationwide has pioneered, is now available to qualified car owners. Here's real merit-rated auto insurance. With SAFE-T-RATE, your accident record sets your rate!

SAFE-T-RATE: How it works

You set your own premium rate—higher or lower—depending on your personal accident record. Using 9 possible rate levels, you start out with a rate determined by your past insurance history.

Then, after the first year, depending on your safety record under the SAFE-T-RATE plan, your rates go down—or up—from your original rate level. With each successive accident-free year, your rates go down until you reach a low, low minimum premium!

SAFE-T-RATE: Top driving security

In addition to this new rating method, you get broad insurance coverage—including 20 liberalized benefits...with prompt, friendly claims service. SAFE-T-RATE means quality protection—while your rates go down with each accident-free year!

SAFE-T-RATE: Our policyholders' idea

This revolutionary new plan is a direct result of recommendations made by our Advisory Committee of Policyholders. This policyholder group asked for some means to reward accident-free drivers. The result? A bold new idea in auto insurance—SAFE-T-RATE!

The fact is, Nationwide's policyholder-participation program is just one of many such programs designed to stimulate the growth of new ideas. In this way Nationwide continues to implement bold new concepts for the increased security of you and your family. SAFE-T-RATE is just one of many Nationwide firsts—just one of many new ideas for a new era. Natural Resistance, Vaccine Seen Halting Any Epidemic

Another Wave of Asian Flu Is Unlikely

WASHINGTON (NEA) If the Asian flu bugs decide to attack again this year, the resulting conflict will probably be strictly a limited war.

Dr. C. C. Dauer, U. S. Public Health Service flu expert, declares "Influenza virus is hovering around somewhere. When conditions are right it will blossom forth into epidemics. But we think they will only be in localized areas."

Main reason why Dr. Dauer and other specialists don't expect another global or national epidemic of Asian flu is that the thousands of people who contracted the virus have now built up some natural resistance to it which they didn't have when it struck for the first time last year.

Also, the special vaccine designed to boost this resistance is in plentiful supply throughout the country and is considered to be a highly effective deterrent against another world-wide attack.

ACTUALLY, specialists are not even sure whether the Asian bug will be involved in this year's

IF ASIAN FLU STRIKES again, a plentiful supply of vaccine will be available. Here, a technician stores in a refrigerator the eggs in which the vaccine is grown.

there are also a few other clans of flu bugs in existence. But these germs are either pretty weak or have been around so long that they're becoming extinct and aren't likely to cause much trouble.

Scientists, however, aren't taking any chances. They have combined several vaccines, including those used to combat Asian and Bon flu, into one potent dose so that people can be prepared for all the known treacherous bugs.

Surgeon General Leroy Burney stresses that the decision of whether a person should be vaccinated should be left up to his doctor. But he believes that it would be a good idea if the vaccine were given to hospital workers, people who live or work in institutions and workers who hold jobs in a business that would be severely hampered by a lot of absences at one time.

He also believes consideration should be given to vaccinating pregnant women and people who are old or chronically ill.

Looking back on last year's epidemic, many doctors agree that the danger potential of the Asian bug was overrated. Of course, there's no doubt that it played a part in killing plenty of people.

But doctors report that the flu and pneumonia death rate was actually higher in 1958. An epidemic reached its peak in February of that year when about 76 out of every 100,000 persons in the U.S. died from these closely linked diseases.

Last year's epidemic reached its peak in November. But flu and pneumonia killed only about 67 out of every 100,000 people.

THESE EXPERTS explain that Flu experts explain that the strong chance of it striking in 1958 is no real cause for alarm. A vaccine to combat it has been in existence for years. Also, they say the virus is relatively weak and has never been known to cause a nationwide epidemic.

Doctors explain that usually just one type of virus strikes each year. Whether this year's culprit will be the Asian or Bon variety probably won't be known until December, the month that medical intelligence experts believe 1958's flu season will begin.

Sweet Dough Is Basis of Breakfast Treats

Too often, the lively pace of modern living allows little time to sit down and enjoy a leisurely breakfast. In some cases, this important meal is skipped entirely or is too skimpy to give adequate nourishment.

Despite the many activities crowding our busy schedule, it is possible today to prepare an appetizing morning meal, if you plan ahead the dishes that you'll serve. For example, here is an easy recipe for a sweet basic dough which can be prepared ahead of time and refrigerated until needed. With this prepared dough, you can make several varieties of sweet treats by using your favorite fruit or nut filling that will turn any ordinary breakfast into an inviting and pleasurable meal.

Basic Sweet Dough

2 cups milk, scalded, 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter, 3 eggs, well beaten, 2 envelopes dry yeast 1/4 cup lukewarm water, 6 cups sifted flour.

Blend in eggs. Sprinkle yeast on lukewarm water and stir until yeast is dissolved. Add to milk mixture. Stir in enough flour to make a soft dough. Cover and set in warm place until doubled in bulk. Turn out on floured board and knead dough until smooth and not sticky. Place in greased bowl and cover. Store in refrigerator until needed.

Waldorf Fruit Salad Is Attractive, Versatile

Attractive salads and desserts that can be made ahead of time—that's what everyone is asking for these days. "Waldorf Fruit Salad" is just such a recipe. What a versatile recipe it is too. According to your choice of dish—it's a salad—it's a dessert!

A recipe that "doubles" well comes in handy oftentimes. "Waldorf Fruit Salad" does that too! As to color—the luscious red of the cranberry cubes is tops. This recipe you'll want to try soon.

Waldorf Fruit Salad
1 quart apples, chopped, 1 cup celery, chopped, 1 cup broken pecans, 1 can pineapple chunks (drained), 2 cups miniature marshmallows, 1/2 cup whipping cream, 1/2 cup mayonnaise.

Cranberry sauce (cut in cubes) Combine the first 5 ingredients. Whip the cream and stir in the mayonnaise until well blended. Fold mayonnaise-cream mixture into the fruit salad until salad is well coated with dressing. Spoon salad onto lettuce leaf and sprinkle with cranberry cubes. Makes sixteen to eighteen servings.

Sunday Chicken

One 2-pound broiler chicken, 1 tablespoon lard, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon black pepper, 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder, 1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate, 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 2 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 teaspoon rosemary, 1 cup vinegar.

Grase bottom of roasting pan. Clean, wash and dry chicken that has been cut in serving pieces. Season inside of pieces with half of seasoning and place skin side up in pan. Season skin side of chicken with balance of seasonings.

Use Timetable to Roast Thanksgiving Turkey

THE KING AND HIS COURT: The lordly Thanksgiving turkey attended by a plate of herb buttered vegetables and tiers of succulent spiced pears, apples and sliced carrots and celery.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

To get the newest techniques in roasting the lordly Thanksgiving turkey, we consulted Kathryn B. Niles, noted home economics director of the Poultry and Egg National Board in Chicago.

Here are some of her suggestions:

Don't guess how long to roast your turkey. Use the chart below. It gives the approximate time required to roast fresh or completely thawed birds. Unstuffed turkeys require approximately 5 minutes per pound less time. Differences in individual birds may necessitate increasing or decreasing cooking time slightly.

Oven Temperature (slow oven) 325 degrees F., Ready-to-cook weight, 6 to 8 pounds, 3½ to 4 hrs.; 8 to 12 pounds - 4 to 4½ hrs.; 12 to 16 pounds - 4½ to 5½ hrs.; 16 to 20 pounds - 5½ to 7 hrs.; 20 to 24 pounds - 7 to 8½ hrs.

If you buy a dressed turkey, subtract 15 to 20 per cent of the dressed weight to obtain the approximate ready-to-cook weight.

When dinner is set or a definite hour, start the bird 20 to 30 minutes ahead of schedule to avoid delay should the turkey take longer to cook than estimated. This also allows time to make gravy, remove trussing cords, and arrange the bird attractively on the platter.

After the bird is done:

Allow the bird to stand in roasting pan 15 to 30 minutes so that juices may be absorbed. Remove all trussing equipment, such as skewers and cord. Place the bird on a warm, large platter. Use a simple garnish. Don't overdo it. Carve at table so everyone can enjoy the full glamour. Carve with a very sharp, thin-bladed knife and fork with a guard. Carve enough meat at one time to serve all the guests.

Miss Niles suggests celery, carrots (both cut on bias), lima beans and kernel corn, all seasoned with herb butter for the feast. Her centerpiece is a straw turkey basket with bittersweet chrysanthemums and wood roses.

Herb Butter for Thanksgiving Vegetables (Makes 6-8 servings)

One-half cup butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon minced chives, pinch of marjoram, pinch of rosemary, 3 cups hot, quick-cooked vegetables (celery, corn, lima, peas, carrots, or other favorites).

Heat butter or margarine to a golden brown; avoid burning. Add chives and herbs. Pass hot herb butter in preheated small pitcher. Or, drizzle over vegetables in vegetable dish.

THANKSGIVING Dinner: Shrimp cocktail, roast turkey, garlic-lavender bread stuffing, giblet gravy, whipped potatoes, sliced carrots and celery, kernel corn and lima beans with herb butter, spiced apples and spiced pears, yeast rolls, butter or margarine, steamed chocolate pudding, hard sauce, nuts and raisins, fruit bowl, coffee tea, milk, cider.

Pizza Burgers

6-oz. can tomato paste, ¼ cup catsup, 1½ teasps. oregano, ¼ teasps. garlic salt, 2 Tablesp. all-purpose flour, ½ cup instant milk in dry form B cup water, 1 cup grated, process American cheese, 1 lb. ground lean beef, 1 Tablesp. hot shortening, 8 round sandwich buns, split and toasted ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese.

In 1-qt. bowl mix tomato paste, catsup, oregano and garlic salt. Let stand until needed. Mix flour and instant milk in 1-qt. saucepan. Stir in water gradually until smooth. Cook and stir over medium heat until thick, but do not boil. Take off heat.

Stir in American cheese until cheese melts and sauce is smooth. Cook ground beef in hot shortening. Arrange sandwich buns on cookie sheet, cut sides up. Spread tomato mixture over each. Top with cheese sauce.

Cover cheese sauce with cooked meat. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese over meat. Bake near center of 400 oven (hot) 12 to 15 min., or until bubbly hot. Makes 16.

Applesauce Creme

Two cups cream, 2 cups applesauce, ½ teaspoon almond extract, grated chocolate.

Whip the cream until stiff. Fold in applesauce and almond extract. Sprinkle top with grated chocolate. Chill and serve.

Removing gooey from small fry when eating in a restaurant is simplified if you sub a washcloth and pack it in a plastic cosmetic bag and slip it into your purse before leaving home.

Cranberry Relish

2 navel oranges, 1 pound fresh cranberries (4 cups), 2 cups sugar. Wash oranges; cut in eighths; remove seeds. Put oranges (including rind), cranberries through coarse blade of food chopper. Stir in sugar; blend thoroughly. Chill.

Tear off twelve 6-inch wide pieces of 12-inch Alcoa Wrap; fold each piece in half, making 6-inch squares. Fit squares into muffin cups; fold excess foil down to form edge.

Fill foil cups with Cranberry Orange Relish (approximately ¼ cup); put remaining relish into another container; freeze for later use. Place muffin pans in freezer for several hours or until frozen. Remove foil cups from muffin pans; wrap cups completely in foil; return to freezer. Yield: Approximately five cups.

Spiced Donuts

Two eggs, beaten; 1 cup milk, 5 tablespoons shortening, melted; 4 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon cinnamon, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, ¼ teaspoon ground cloves, ½ teaspoon salt.

Add sugar, milk and shortening to beaten eggs. Sift flour before measuring, then resift with baking powder, spices and salt. Combine the egg mixture with flour. Stir until blended. Roll dough ¼-inch thick and cut into desired shapes. Fry in deep fat heated to 375 degrees F. about 3 minutes, first on one side, then the other. Sprinkle with sugar.

Roast Chickens for Holidays

There's twice the treat to Thanksgiving dinner when two young roast chickens are served instead of one larger bird. Why? Well, there are twice as many drumsticks and breasts to go around, so everyone will be happy. You can serve two kinds of stuffing, too—one with nuts and raisins, the other with oysters.

Chickens between 3½ and 5 pounds are so juicy they need no basting. The roasting time for two small chickens is only half that of one large bird—good news for the cook.

Two young roasting chickens, 1 teaspoon salt, divided; 2 tablespoons softened butter, shortening or salad oil.

Wash chickens under cold, running water; pat dry inside and out with paper toweling. Sprinkle each cavity with ½ teaspoon of salt. Fill neck cavity lightly with stuffing. Hook wing tip into back to hold neck skin; if skin is short, fasten with skewer. Fill body cavity with stuffing; tie legs together with string, then tie legs and tail together. Rub entire body of each chicken with 1 tablespoon softened butter or shortening, or brush with salad oil. Place chickens on rack in shallow roasting pan. Roast in moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Allow 30 minutes per pound (2 hours for a 4-pound roasting chicken). Serve with giblet gravy.

Duo Savory Stuffing (Enough for 2 young roasting chickens)

One package (8 ounces) prepared stuffing mix, 4 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 cup diced celery. In saucepan or skillet, melt butter called for in package directions for crumbly stuffing. Add onion and celery; cook until onion is tender, but not brown. Add liquid called for in package directions. Bring to a boil. Add to stuffing. Divide stuffing in half. To half the stuffing, add ¼ cup chopped nuts and ¼ cup raisins. To remaining half, add 6 medium oysters coarsely cut. Use each half of the stuffing for one chicken.

THANKSGIVING DINNER:

Tomato bouillon with chopped watercress, cheese straws, twin roasting chickens duo savory stuffing (raisin-nut and oyster), giblet gravy, whole cranberry sauce, stuffed baked potatoes, diced buttered turnips, creamed onions with chopped parsley, crusty rolls, butter or margarine, relish tray: celery, cucumber sticks, carrot sticks, ripe and green olives, fresh fruit compote, coconut layer cake, coffee, tea, milk, nuts and raisins and candied ginger.

Tar, asphalt and blacktop are menaces to shoes in any new housing development. If you get trapped in the goo, first scrape soles carefully. Then swab off with mineral oil. Takes lots of elbow grease. Finally, scrub soles with a good, thick, detergent solution. Rinse, And., next time watch your step.

Veterans Guide

By Veterans Administration

Q—I'm a Korea veteran, holding GI term insurance. I understand, by a new law, I now can convert it to a permanent plan. Is this so?

A—You will be able to convert it after January 1, 1959. The new law permits Korea veterans holding term insurance policies with the letters "RS" before their numbers to convert to one of six permanent plans.

Q—On my discharge from the Armed Forces recently I received a lump sum disability severance payment. Will I have to pay this back to the Government if I am awarded VA compensation for the same disability?

A—Yes. The law requires that VA monthly compensation payments revert to the Government until the amount recovered is equal to the amount of disability severance pay the veteran received.

Q—I am planning to sell my GI home but cannot pay off the loan with what cash I will receive from the new purchaser. Do I have to have VA's consent to make the sale?

A—No. You do not need VA's consent to sell your property. However, if you wish to be released from possible liability to the Government, you must apply to VA.

Try a Hobo Picnic For Winter Fun

By VIVIAN BROWN

Cooler weather is likely to be a challenge to young people when it comes to fun. Summertime in the mountains or at the shore has much to offer from picnic to picnic with recreation that includes swimming, water skiing, beach-combing.

But when it comes to sitting around the fireplace instead of holding fort around a bonfire, we may be at a loss for good, clean fun ideas. A party can get pretty dull even when it is an indoor picnic, popular recreation for young people during winter months.

One fun idea is a hobo picnic complete with red or blue hobo scarves for napkins, wooden reeds for toasting hot dogs over the fire, a wash pail of ice for coke bottles, spuds wrapped in aluminum foil for roasting. Little cheese-wiches, pairs of crackers with the cheese - baked between, are easy to serve cold out of the refrigerator or piping hot from fireplace logs.

Story Telling

When everybody is sitting around cozily on the floor, begin a fiction story with each person participating in the telling. Each guest has just so many minutes to tell his part of the story, and cannot continue when the timer calls a halt. You'll be amazed how interesting the story may become, especially if it gets to the suspense stage. A fiction story should get to at least 10 people each talking for at least 2 minutes. The last person must end the story, and thereby hangs the tale.

One Connecticut group of young people claims afternoon clan gathering can jazz up a study period. The idea makes a hit with parents so that a group can get together more often.

The trick is to choose a subject that is agreeable to the majority. If all members of the group are in the same class, so much the better. The session could be home work, and dull as it sounds just think of all the helping hands one could meet.

Travelogue
If the thought of school work is depressing, an interesting educational idea is the travelogue, a trip adventure to another city, town village theater, related by the traveler while everyone lounges around.

The tape recorder can supply a lot of laughs too, on these occasions. Home movies ring a bell, particularly with sports-minded types. If you've had the foresight to photograph a series of steps in a new technique of water skiing or that big fish that almost got away, home movies can supply a million laughs. These are great ice-breakers when new pals are being initiated to a crowd. Anyone who acts bored shouldn't be invited again.

A paper bag of box lunch with each bringing his own is the food answer to the impromptu study session.

Apples-Sausage

Six large apples, cored; 1 cup sausage meat, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons brown sugar.

Select tart apples. Remove pulp. Chop and combine with sausage meat. Sprinkle inside of apples with salt and brown sugar, then fill with sausage mixture. Bake in moderate (375 degrees F.) oven until tender.

Hang a paper bag from the cord hook on your vacuum. It's a handy catch-all for bits too large for the vacuum to devour and the collection is ready for the rubbish when you've completed your rounds.

News of Our Neighbors

Homeworth

Rev. and Mrs. Donald K. McGarrah and family were honored by groups of the Middle Sandy United Presbyterian Church recently.

Rev. McGarrah, who will leave for assumption of new duties in Etua, Pa., this weekend, was given a variety of remembrances by representatives of the church family.

Dale White presented the McGarrah's with an electric blanket on behalf of the congregation and Miss Patty White, an electric skillet for the Westminster Fellowship. Sheets, pillow cases and a blanket were presented by Mrs. Vernon McPeck on behalf of the Loyal Workers Sunday School Class. Mrs. Gordon DeVall for the Grace Ladies Aid and Missionary Society, presented a book in gold leaf, and Mrs. Virgil Jackson, spiritual life group, offered a copy of Catherine Marshall's "To Live Again."

Members of the committee for the event were Mrs. DeVall, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Eleanor Willard and Mrs. Stewart Johnston.

Mrs. Don McClain had Mrs. Lana Maxwell as a special guest for the Thursday evening meeting of the Card-Eltes held in her home in Alliance.

Bridge was the pastime at which

Mrs. John Beiter, Mrs. John Mardis and Mrs. Robert Eckert won the awards. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Roger McQuilkin and Mrs. Beiter were presented anniversary gifts from the club.

The next meeting for the club will be the Christmas dinner party Dec. 11 at Aldoms. The next club session will be held Jan. 8, with Mrs. McQuilkin.

Troop 200 of Girl Scouts held a candle lighting ceremony Thursday evening at the Knox Local School. Frances Ray and Mary Ganslein leaders, presented pins to 10 girls.

"Lollipop" was enacted by Georgia Smith, Cindy Howman, Connie Dixon, Lynn Brown and Linda Powell. "Sugar Time" was done by Donna Stuller, Karen Berger and Gale Buckman and "Purple People Eaters" by Frances Peach and Debby Greenwalt.

Hostesses were Donna Stuller, Gale Buckman and Cindy Howman. Refreshments were served by Connie Dixon, Lynn Brown and Karen Berger.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Pickens. Thirty-five attended. Pictures were taken.

THE FRIENDLY CLUB members will enjoy their annual Christmas dinner party Dec. 11 at Aldom's on East State Road. They planned the event Thursday during a meeting at the home of Mrs. Emory Hancock.

The hostess served refreshments with Mrs. Earl Rinker assisting. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sampson of Zanesville called on Art Thomas Saturday.

Miss Margaret LeFever of Sebring was hostess to the S. T. Club Thursday evening.

Awards at the "500" tables were won by Mrs. Delbert Stowe and Mrs. William Rohaley. Refreshments were served. The Dec. 11 meeting will be held with Mrs. Stowe and will include a casserole dinner and gift exchange.

Mrs. Nick Sotcan was a special guest of Mrs. Walter Leo who entertained the Double Four Club Wednesday evening at the Virginian.

Awards at the 500 tables were won by Mrs. Harry Myers, Mrs. Robert Saddler and Mrs. A. A. Rohrer. Mrs. Sotcan received a guest gift and won the traveling award.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held Nov. 25 with Mrs. Edwin McDonald as hostess at Aldom's.

Mrs. Andrew Pedys entertained the Monkey Shines Club at her home Thursday evening with Mrs. Albert Tasker as hostess. The next meeting is Dec. 4 at the home of Mrs. Edward Lippy.

New Garden

Miss Fran Hummer, Polly Palechek and Laurel Sutton of Mt. Union College led discussion classes and conducted Youth Fellows hip worship services Sunday evening in the New Garden Methodist Church.

Homer Messer talked about the possibilities for youth recreation activities in the church. Carol Amos and Linda Liber gave reports on discussions concerning organization, study projects and membership.

Plans are being made to form an Intermediate MYF group under the direction of Rev. and Mrs. John Capper with the help of the older youth group.

Another meeting will be held in the church Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

All interested persons in the community and surrounding areas are urged to attend.

East Fairfield

The East Fairfield Methodist Church will hold a ham and turkey supper and sponsor a bazaar at the Fairfield High School Saturday.

Included at the bazaar will be a country store.

All proceeds will go to the church building fund.
